10 Die in Cleveland Outbreak; Call Guard

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Snipers armed with rifles, shotguns, carbines and bayonets opened fire Tuesday on a police tow truck at the start of a night of terror that left 10 persons dead, including three white policemen and seven Negroes.

Mayor Carl B. Stokes said today that the violence, which brought 4,000 National Guard troops to restore order on Cleveland's East Side, was the work of a "small and determined group."

He said FBI and military intelligence had warned him two days ago that there would be trouble here and in other cities, starting at 8 a.m. today.

But the outbreak came Tuesday night, when snipers opened fire on policemen removing an abandoned auto, touching off a gunfight as well as looting and burning. The tow truck operator was wounded.

Stokes said authorities had arrested Ahmed (Fred) Evans, a Negro, whom police quoted as saying that there were 17 men in his group and that he surrendered after his rifle failed to fire while he was aiming at a policeman.

Stokes said his office had been trying to help Evans settle an abandoned auto, touching off a gunfight as well as looting and burning. The tow truck operator was wounded.

Stokes said that when police came to the aid of the men on the tow truck, they came under fire from a nearby apartment building.

The outbreak also produced: —19 injured, 11 of them policemen, one of whom remained in critical condition with a gun wound.

—50 arrests, about half on looting charges. Others were held for breach of peace, conspiracy, carrying concealed deadly weapons.

—About 200 homeless, from blazes started by fire bombs.

—An unofficial damage estimate of over $100,000, mostly for buildings and their contents, and for several burned-out autos.

—A halt in the sale of alcoholic beverages in Cleveland and surrounding suburbs.

—Mobilization of all of Ohio's 15,250 National Guardsmen with 4,000 dispatched immediately to the state's biggest city to help keep order.

The three hour firefight with police began when the police tow truck rode up to Beulah Avenue and 123rd Street to "pick up a piece of junk."

The calm of the hot summer night—the temperature was 90—was shattered when bullets began pouring from rooftops, windows, from behind bushes—and police rushed in many more men.

It ended, except for the occasional crack of a gun shot, just before a heavy thundershower about midnight cooled off the steaming streets and dampened some blazes started by fire bombs.

Police armed with rifles joined National Guardsmen on patrol today.

The shooting began, witnesses said, when two Negro snipers "carrying rifles and sacks of ammunition," ran out of an alley, crouched behind bushes and shot three white policemen, the first victims.

Later two snipers were killed. Bayonets, shotgun shells, gas masks and first aid kits were found on the bodies.

Waves of police, some using Brink's armored trucks, turned the neighborhood into an armed camp.

Tear gas and smoke bombs burst on the sidewalks and against buildings. Officers and some residents became ill from the fumes.

The shooting scene, on Lakeview Road near 125th Street, is about a mile from the Hough area where four Negroes were killed in rioting and looting just two years ago on five other hot July nights.

When the gunfire erupted, police radio calls came thick and fast and had a tone of desperation.

"Things are pretty bad down here," said one. "We're pinned down. The wounded men are lying in the street. We can't get to them. Get some armored cars."

Red Politburo Said on Way To Czech Talk

PRAGUE (AP) — Unconfirmed reports today said Leonid I. Brezhnev and the rest of the Soviet Communist party Politburo was on its way to Czechoslovakia for its crucial meeting with Prague's new Communist leaders to discuss the latter's controversial democratic reforms.

Departure of the Soviet delegation for the previously announced meeting was reported by the Yugoslav news agency, Tanjug, from Moscow. There was no official confirmation, but rumors of the departure circulated in Moscow.

The trip to Czechoslovakia is the first by the Politburo—steering committee of the Soviet party—outside Russia as a group.

The meeting is expected to be held today or Thursday in Slovakia, adjacent to the Soviet Union, but the time and location have not been announced.

Despite new Soviet army maneuvers along its eastern frontier, Czechoslovak officials expressed confidence the Russians would never resort to armed intervention if the country stands united behind Alexander Dubcek's reformist regime.

"The Soviets would lose more than they would gain by a military intervention," one Communist party official said.

"Moscow will have to get used to what is going on here. There can be no turning back the clock. We are not going to compromise and are determined to continue on the present course."

Party officials said they viewed the Soviet note this week demanding a strengthening of Czechoslovakia's border with West Germany, presumably by Red army troops, as "just another step in the war of nerves."

In apparent rebuttal to the Soviet note, Maj. Gen. Jan Peprny, commander of the frontier guard forces, said in a statement to the official news agency CTK:

"Fears regarding the safety of Czechoslovakia's borders are quite unfounded. The Czechoslovak Socialist Republic has enough strength to safely protect its state border with its capitalist neighbors."

The Soviet note is expected to be a chief topic of discussion at the meeting of the 11-member Soviet Politburo and the 11-man presidium of the Czechoslovak party.

Nixon Campaign Spending Given

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Campaign strategists for Richard M. Nixon reportedly told a group of Dayton area businessmen Tuesday that they expect to spend $20 million to $26 million on the Republican candidate's drive for the presidency.

The figures, revealed in a closed door meeting, are considerably higher than the $19 million reportedly spent by Republicans on Barry Goldwater's unsuccessful 1964 campaign.

Foreign Aid Bill Is Trimmed Again By Senate Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's foreign aid program, a continuing target of an economy-minded Congress, has suffered another setback.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday refused to restore the nearly $1 billion cut by the House last week from the President's original $2.9 billion request. In fact, the committee trimmed another $22.9 million on its own.

Storms Hit In Plains, Midwest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms swept the central plains and midwest again today, unleashing heavy rains in the wake of damaging winds.

Downpours of up to 3 1/2 inches soaked parts of Iowa and northern Illinois during the predawn hours. The wide-ranging belt of storms extended westward into Kansas and Nebraska and east into lower Michigan.

A tornado whipped out of the hot-weather storm system over southern Michigan late Tuesday and smashed a barn in the Hillsdale area, 80 miles west-southwest of Detroit.

High winds sweeping across Kansas leveled a barn and heavily damaged a home in the northwestern section of Topeka Tuesday night.

Thunderstorms which hit the Chicago area at intervals which began Tuesday afternoon caused a 12-hour backup of flights in and out of O'Hare International Airport for a time. Takeoffs still were up to an hour behind schedule early today.

Mail Snarl May Be Solved Congress Acting To Restore Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Postmaster Gen. W. Marvin Watson said today action by two congressional committees has encouraged him to believe mail service will not have to be curtailed.

But Watson indicated Congress will have to do still more before the Post Office Department rescinds its announced cutbacks in service, the first of which takes effect Saturday.

"The support of these two committees—composed of men most knowledgeable on this complex subject—was to me further evidence of the credibility of our crisis," Watson said.

"It remains now for the Congress to make its decision," he added. "But I believe there is now some light being cast into what is a somber situation."

Watson's comments were in a speech prepared for 2,000 delegates to the National Postal Forum.

Watson repeated arguments he made before congressional committees in the past two weeks seeking an exemption from the department from manpower cutbacks dictated by President Johnson's 10 per cent income surtax bill.

The beginning of postal cutbacks that Watson has said could lead to closing of 12,000 small branches and eventual four-day delivery in residential areas, comes this Saturday when window service will be cut to a maximum of two hours and street-box pickups will be made on Sunday schedules.

Exemptions for the Post Office Department have been approved by committees in the House and Senate with the most recent action Tuesday.

The Senate Post Office Committee wrote the exemption into a minor House-passed bill. This paved the way for quick actions possibly by week's end, a committee source said.

Celler Predicts House Will Approve Gun Control Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A leading congressional supporter of gun control legislation predicts the House will approve President Johnson's embattled proposal to restrict the sale of rifles, shotguns and ammunition.

The prediction was made by Judiciary Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., after the House spent seven hours Tuesday wading through amendments to ready a measure for today's expected final vote.

Celler's opposite number in the Senate, Judiciary Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., declared his opposition to a similar bill called up for simultaneous action in his committee.

"I hope the committee will kill all the gun bills," Eastland said.

Among the amendments tacked onto the bill Tuesday was one proposed by the National Rifle Association, a prime enemy of stiffer gun laws.

Sponsored by Rep. Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., it would exempt the National Board for Promotion of Rifle Practice from the prohibition of interstate shipment of firearms and ammunition.

Senate OKs More Money For Air Traffic Workers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved an additional $153 million for the Federal Aviation Administration in a move to relieve the congestion that has disrupted air traffic at some of the nation's busiest airports.

"This is not a matter of air safety, it's a matter of air survival," Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said before the Senate approved appropriations of $983.4 million for the FAA.

The action came while reports of delays in takeoffs and landings at major airports throughout the country continued to come in.

The traffic jams, which have mushroomed in recent weeks, are threatening to cause the cancellation of some flights, a cutback in FAA services and the possible closing of some facilities.

The controllers maintain that they are overworked, short-staffed and under-equipped to handle the increasing air traffic.

The bill was $153 million higher than a measure passed previously by the House and its sponsors said the extra money would provide for the hiring of 3,627 air-traffic controllers. The House bill allowed for only 1,631 controllers.

U.S. Approves Highway Contract

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The federal government approved Tuesday a $5,095,339 contract which the Ohio Department of Highways awarded Feb. 21 for improvements on Interstate 271 in Summit County.

The Bureau of Public Roads had held up the contract because the Carl M. Geupel Construction Co., Inc., Worthington, had not represented manning tables of minority groups at pre-awarded conferences.

John Geupel said Tuesday that about 60 of the 250 men working on the 4.1 mile section will be from minority groups.

this was a dangerous loophole.

The House rejected an attempt to require the states to give mandatory prison sentences to persons convicted of using a firearm in the commission of any felony. Last Friday, the body adopted an amendment requiring mandatory sentences for persons convicted of a crime while using a firearm in the commission of a federal felony.

Train-Bus Crash Kills 9 Migrants

NEWTONVILLE, N.J. (AP) — A two-car passenger train plowed into a farm labor bus Tuesday night, killing nine of the migrants and injuring 20 others in this South Jersey community.

State police said the two self-propelled diesel cars of the Pennsylvania-Reading Seashore Lines, carrying some 100 passengers, tore the old school bus in two and threw the rear half 300 feet down the track. No one on the train was injured.

State police accounted for 39 bus passengers, but did not know exactly how many were aboard.

State police said the train was southbound from Philadelphia to Jersey shore points where it passed the crossing, which is marked with painted railroad warning signs but no lights. It was not known how fast the train was traveling.

The speed limit for trains in that section is 70 miles an hour, according to state police.

The farm bus was returning migrant workers from a dairy farm to Chester, Pa., according to Mayor John Krokos of Buena Vista Township.

Ferrari, 22, had a preliminary hearing before Lakewood Municipal Court Judge Richard L. McNelly.

He is accused of killing 20-year-old Bonnie Ferrari outside her mother's home July 12.

Ferrari also is accused of wounding both his brother-in-law, George Lipp Jr., 17, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. George Lipp Sr.

Police said Ferrari shot his wife and wounded the other two members of the family after he demanded custody of his daughter, Tammy, 2.

Harriman Tells Reds Saigon Has Big Part

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador W. Averell Harriman bluntly told North Vietnamese negotiators today that to progress toward peace "you must be prepared to recognize the role" of South Vietnam's government in working out a settlement of the Vietnam war.

Harriman's assertion in the 14th session of the Paris peace talks followed directly on President Johnson's Honolulu meeting with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam at the end of last week. North Vietnam regularly denounces the Saigon government as an American "puppet."

Harriman told newsmen he had not seen definite evidence that the lull in the war around Saigon, which began in mid-June, was finally coming to an end.

But he added: "What is disturbing is that the terrorist actions on theaters around Saigon have started again. People have been killed. I intend to call attention to that." The Viet Cong bombed four theaters in Saigon and nearby towns Sunday, killing 12 Vietnamese and wounding 91.

Going into the 14th session of the talks, Harriman said he would present to the North Vietnamese negotiators the appeal issued in Honolulu by President Johnson and President Nguyen Van Thieu "for a peaceful settlement and an end of the violence."

"I intend," he continued, "to point to the violence that is continuing on the part of the Viet Cong, and I hope this will make some impression."

Harriman and his aides are also trying to find out whether North Vietnam is weakening its support for the National Liberation Front and offering Washington a new lure among its terms for a final political settlement in South Vietnam.

Rocky Admits Reagan Picking Up Support from Delegates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ronald Reagan and Nelson A. Rockefeller found themselves in agreement today on a surprising point: Both saw growing support for Reagan's unannounced presidential candidacy.

Rockefeller, governor of New York, told newsmen at the National Governors Conference at Cincinnati Tuesday that he knows of 55 delegates, most of them in the South, who have switched from support of Richard M. Nixon as the Republican presidential candidate.

Rockefeller said 37 have lined up behind Reagan and the rest behind his own, announced candidate.

Despite conceding this shift to Reagan, Rockefeller insisted that only he can win for the Republicans in November.

Reagan, appearing at a separate news conference, didn't have any specific figures. But the California governor said

"rather sizeable movements" have sprung up designed to make him a candidate.

"I can't ignore them. It's there," Reagan said. At the same time he reaffirmed his intention to lead the California delegation to the GOP convention as a favorite son and not as announced national candidate.

The governors conference provided a focal point for Tuesday's nationwide political doings which included a demonstration-marred visit by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to New York City, a pitch for Maryland delegates by Eugene electrical workers disputes that had threatened both national conventions.

McCarthy and Humphrey are fighting for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Among the convention highlights: —Gov. Tim Babcock of Montana, Nixon's Western regional chairman, said Nixon "has the strength in the key states from coast to coast" to win in November.

—A resolution suggested by Rhode Island's John H. Chafee that would lessen the impact of a big November vote for third-party-candidate George Wallace, got a cool reception from several governors, including Rockefeller.

Chafee wanted the governors to endorse an agreement between the major parties to guarantee the presidency to the candidate getting the biggest popular vote if there should be no majority winner in the Electoral College. Such an agreement is being pushed by a bipartisan group of congressmen.

—Gov. John B. Connally of Texas stopped short of saying Massachusetts Sen. Edward M. Kennedy lacked the qualifications to be a vice presidential running mate for Humphrey, but indicated he favored a more conservative candidate.

Several governors earlier in the conference suggested Kennedy would add great strength to a Humphrey ticket.

Humphrey, meanwhile, indicated that he was reserving for himself the right to pick a running mate, although he wasn't locking the door to an assist from the convention.

Foreign Aid Bill Is Trimmed Again By Senate Group

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's foreign aid program, a continuing target of an economy-minded Congress, has suffered another setback.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee Tuesday refused to restore the nearly $1 billion cut by the House last week from the President's original $2.9 billion request. In fact, the committee trimmed another $22.9 million on its own.

Observers said by the time the overseas proposals get through being worked over in today's committee hearings, future debate on the Senate floor, and certain reduction in separate appropriations bills the program might barely total half of what was asked.

The foreign assistance program has been in increasing difficulties since a year ago when Congress first demanded multi-billion-dollar spending cuts in return for passage of the President's 10 per cent income tax surcharge.

Rep. George Mahon, D-Tex., chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, has predicted the money bill may be $400 million under the authorization an ultimate appropriation of less than $1.6 billion.

The authorization measure sets policy and money ceilings. The appropriations bill fixes the amount that may actually be spent.

A combination of factors has sent the aid program to its lowest level in its 21-year history. It has its longtime critics who have termed it a giveaway that made no friends for this country.

They have been joined in recent years by former supporters who now oppose the program to register opposition to the Vietnam war and its costs. The bill contains substantial amounts for the civilian economy of Vietnam, but the major war costs are in the Defense Department budget.

CIRCLEVILLE Kiwanis is sponsoring a night at Jet Stadium for all youngsters participating in the Circleville Youth Baseball Program.

Kiwanian Jack Wise came to the rescue of a number of youngsters when he made some hurried phone calls and a trip to Columbus for extra tickets.

Seems as though there were more kids wanting to go this year to see the Jets play than the Kiwanis Club had tickets.

THE 20 mule team coming to Circleville will be quartered in the A&P Parking lot on Island Road rather than at the High Street School, Chief of Police Robert Temple reported today.

Chief Temple was busy this morning making arrangements to escort the mule team through the city. Fire Chief Bernard Wolfe is making arrangements to water the animals.

The public has been invited to see the mule team, through the courtesy of the city's new car and truck dealers.

Senate OKs More Money For Air Traffic Workers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved an additional $153 million for the Federal Aviation Administration in a move to relieve the congestion that has disrupted air traffic at some of the nation's busiest airports.

"This is not a matter of air safety, it's a matter of air survival," Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said before the Senate approved appropriations of $983.4 million for the FAA.

The action came while reports of delays in takeoffs and landings at major airports throughout the country continued to come in.

The traffic jams, which have mushroomed in recent weeks, are threatening to cause the cancellation of some flights, a cutback in FAA services and the possible closing of some facilities.

The controllers maintain that they are overworked, short-staffed and under-equipped to handle the increasing air traffic.

The bill was $153 million higher than a measure passed previously by the House and its sponsors said the extra money would provide for the hiring of 3,627 air-traffic controllers. The House bill allowed for only 1,631 controllers.

U.S. Approves Highway Contract

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The federal government approved Tuesday a $5,095,339 contract which the Ohio Department of Highways awarded Feb. 21 for improvements on Interstate 271 in Summit County.

The Bureau of Public Roads had held up the contract because the Carl M. Geupel Construction Co., Inc., Worthington, had not represented manning tables of minority groups at pre-awarded conferences.

John Geupel, said Tuesday that about 60 of the 250 men working on the 4.1 mile section will be from minority groups.

this was a dangerous loophole.

The House also adopted an amendment that for all practical purposes would leave only ammunition for pistols and revolvers prohibited from sale through the mails.

The House rejected an attempt to require the states to give mandatory prison sentences to persons convicted of using a firearm in the commission of any felony. Last Friday, the body adopted an amendment requiring mandatory sentences for persons convicted of a crime while using a firearm in the commission of a federal felony.

Train-Bus Crash Kills 9 Migrants

NEWTONVILLE, N.J. (AP) — A two-car passenger train plowed into a farm labor bus Tuesday night, killing nine of the migrants and injuring 20 others in this South Jersey community.

State police said the two self-propelled diesel cars of the Pennsylvania-Reading Seashore Lines, carrying some 100 passengers, tore the old school bus in two and threw the rear half 300 feet down the track. No one on the train was injured.

State police accounted for 39 bus passengers, but did not know exactly how many were aboard.

State police said the train was southbound from Philadelphia to Jersey shore points where it passed the crossing, which is marked with painted railroad warning signs but no lights. It was not known how fast the train was traveling.

The speed limit for trains in that section is 70 miles an hour, according to state police.

The farm bus was returning migrant workers from a dairy farm to Chester, Pa., according to Mayor John Krokos of Buena Vista Township.

Bind Man Over In Slaying Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—Anthony S. Ferrari, charged with first-degree murder in the rifle slaying of his estranged wife, was bound over to the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury Tuesday and ordered held without bond.

Ferrari, 22, had a preliminary hearing before Lakewood Municipal Court Judge Richard L. McNelly.

He is accused of killing 20-year-old Bonnie Ferrari outside her mother's home July 12.

Ferrari also is accused of wounding both his brother-in-law, George Lipp Jr., 17, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. George Lipp Sr.

Police said Ferrari shot his wife and wounded the other two members of the family after he demanded custody of his daughter, Tammy, 2.

Harriman Tells Reds Saigon Has Big Part

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador W. Averell Harriman bluntly told North Vietnamese negotiators today that to progress toward peace "you must be prepared to recognize the role" of South Vietnam's government in working out a settlement of the Vietnam war.

Harriman's assertion in the 14th session of the Paris peace talks followed directly on President Johnson's Honolulu meeting with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam at the end of last week. North Vietnam regularly denounces the Saigon government as an American "puppet."

Harriman told newsmen he had not seen definite evidence that the lull in the war around Saigon, which began in mid-June, was finally coming to an end.

But he added: "What is disturbing is that the terrorist actions on theaters around Saigon have started again. People have been killed. I intend to call attention to that." The Viet Cong bombed four theaters in Saigon and nearby towns Sunday, killing 12 Vietnamese and wounding 91.

Going into the 14th session of the talks, Harriman said he would present to the North Vietnamese negotiators the appeal issued in Honolulu by President Johnson and President Nguyen Van Thieu "for a peaceful settlement and an end of the violence."

"I intend," he continued, "to point to the violence that is continuing on the part of the Viet Cong, and I hope this will make some impression."

Harriman and his aides are also trying to find out whether North Vietnam is weakening its support for the National Liberation Front and offering Washington a new lure among its terms for a final political settlement in South Vietnam.

Rocky Admits Reagan Picking Up Support from Delegates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ronald Reagan and Nelson A. Rockefeller found themselves in agreement today on a surprising point: Both saw growing support for Reagan's unannounced presidential candidacy.

Rockefeller, governor of New York, told newsmen at the National Governors Conference at Cincinnati Tuesday that he knows of 55 delegates, most of them in the South, who have switched from support of Richard M. Nixon as the Republican presidential candidate.

Rockefeller said 37 have lined up behind Reagan and the rest behind his own, announced candidacy.

Despite conceding this shift to Reagan, Rockefeller insisted that only he can win for the Republicans in November.

"rather sizeable movements" have sprung up designed to make him a candidate.

"I can't ignore them. It's there," Reagan said. At the same time he reaffirmed his intention to lead the California delegation to the GOP convention as a favorite son and not as announced national candidate.

The governors conference provided a focal point for Tuesday's nationwide political day's which included a demonstration-marred visit by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to New York City, a pitch for Maryland delegates by Eugene McCarthy and Humphrey are fighting for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Among the convention highlights: —Gov. Tim Babcock of Montana, Nixon's Western regional chairman, said Nixon "has the strength in the key states from coast to coast" to win in November.

—A resolution suggested by Rhode Island's John H. Chafee that would lessen the impact of a big November vote for third-party-candidate George Wallace, got a cool reception from several governors, including Rockefeller.

Chafee wanted the governors to endorse an agreement between the major parties to guarantee the presidency to the candidate getting the biggest popular vote if there should be no majority winner in the Electoral College. Such an agreement is being pushed by a bipartisan group of congressmen.

—Gov. John B. Connally of Texas stopped short of saying Massachusetts Sen. Edward M. Kennedy lacked the qualifications to be a vice presidential running mate for Humphrey, but indicated he favored a more conservative candidate.

Several governors earlier in the conference suggested Kennedy would add great strength to a Humphrey ticket.

Humphrey, meanwhile, indicated that he was reserving for himself the right to pick a running mate, although he wasn't locking the door to an assist from the convention.

Sheriff Gets FSB Escapees

Two juvenile escapees from the Fairfield School for Boys were apprehended today in the village of Meade by Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff. The two youths, who had apparently run away from the school at about 3 a.m. today, were seen in the village by Lloyd Hupp of Tarlton. Hupp promptly called the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department and stayed in Meade to offer assistance to Sheriff Radcliff when he arrived minutes later to make the arrest. The two youths, one 16 and the other 17, admitted to breaking into a vacant home formerly occupied by Dow West, on Route 159, and into another house, possibly near Whisler, Sheriff Radcliff believes.

TAKEN from the West home were a flashlight and articles of clothing. The youths took a radio and a watch from the other home.

The sheriff said that charges of breaking and entering would be filed against the pair in Pickaway County Juvenile Court.

One of the youths was from Ft. Gay, W. Va., and the other from Cleveland. The youth from West Virginia told Sheriff Radcliff that he had been arrested once before in Pickaway County several years ago when he ran away from home.

Israelis, Jordanians Duel; Eban Sees New War Near

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli and Jordanian troops fought a brief skirmish across the River Jordan today south of the Sea of Galilee, the army said.

The engagement was touched off when an armored car belonging to the border police came under light arms fire near Neve Ur in the Beisan Valley, the Israelis charged. The fire was returned.

The army also announced that an Israeli soldier whose command car hit a mine in the upper Galilee Tuesday has died of his injuries. Two other soldiers were wounded in the blast.

And in Jerusalem, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said today that President Gamal Abdel Nasser is looking for a new war to liquidate Israel.

The Egyptian president told the inaugural congress of his Arab Socialist Union in Cairo Tuesday that the Middle East crisis "could explode any minute" into a world conflict.

He said prospects for a settlement with Israel were slim and U.N. efforts to bring about peace in the area had gained nothing.

Eban called Nasser's speech "a brutally clear and conducive picture of . . . a policy of total, unreserved and uncompromising opposition to peace."

"This statement . . . destroys any possible illusion about Egyptian moderation," Eban declared. "Nasser's policy is to have a new war in the Middle East for the purpose of bringing about Israel's complete liquidation."

"He is against peace, against agreement, against negotiation, against the recognition of Israel's sovereignty," he added.

Nasser declared once again that there can be no peace as long as Arab lands are occupied by Israel. He also praised the Soviet Union for rearming Egypt after its defeat in the six-day war in June, 1967.

Nasser also hinted that he might like to hand over authority to a younger generation.

"We have been in power for 16 years, but as far as I am concerned each year was the equivalent of 10," he said.

"I would like to stand here tonight and pass on the banner to a younger generation more in tune with the times. But the banner is stained and we would have been doing that generation an injustice by handing it to them with a black spot."

Albanians Eject 8 Bulgarians

VIENNA (AP) — The Bulgarian ambassador, six embassy officials and a journalist of the Bulgarian news agency BTA have been expelled from Albania for "hostile activities," the Albanian Radio reported today.

Presumably the expulsion was in retaliation for the earlier expulsion of the Albanian ambassador and five embassy officials from Bulgaria. They were charged with having incited citizens to carry out antistate activities.

The broadcast from Tirana, the Albanian capital, rejected this charge and said it was only pretence to divert the "Bulgarian people's attention from the serious situation in the country."

The Bulgarian news agency had said despite the expulsion of the Albanian diplomats, diplomatic ties between the two countries would not be broken. Albania goes all the way with Red China in the feud between Peking and Moscow.

Light to Shine In Pickaway Sky

Increased flight activity from Lockbourne AFB will bring a bright light to central Ohio night skies.

Instructors and students of one of Lockbourne's newest units, the 4413th Combat Crew Training Squadron, are now flying their modified C-119 aircraft. The modified planes feature an illuminator or bright light used to light up ground areas during night flights.

The movable light will appear extremely bright and usually move in a circular pattern. The light is part of routine Air Force training and area residents should not be alarmed.

Police Investigate Separate, Similar Mishaps Tuesday

Circleville Police Department investigated two separate accidents within the city Tuesday which happened in the same manner.

In both cases, drivers were making left hand turns when they took their eyes from the road and hit parked cars. One person received injury in the accidents.

Jacqueline Jolliffe, 39, of 270 Walnut Creek Pike, told police she was turning from Scioto St. left onto High St. when her turn signal stuck. She looked down at it and hit a car belonging to Lawrence Cupp, 155 W. High St.

The driver sustained a bump to her nose and was referred to her doctor. The front of the Jolliffe car and the rear of the Cupp auto were both damaged.

At 6:45 p.m. Kenneth Crawford, 32, of 125 Walnut St., was turning left from Walnut St. onto Pickaway St. when a box on the back seat fell. He turned around to stop it when he hit a parked vehicle belonging to Charles McClure, 966 S. Pickaway St. Both autos were damaged. Crawford was not injured.

Viet Ground Action Continues

SAIGON (AP) — Allied forces battled Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops southwest and east of Saigon today and uncovered sizable weapons caches in other areas near South Vietnam's threatened capital.

In the northern provinces, another vulnerable sector, the Viet Cong kept up the pressure on outposts and provincial capitals with a second day of mortar attacks and light ground probes.

One Viet Cong company broke into a village 15 miles southeast of Da Nang and burned it to the ground, leaving all 1,400 inhabitants homeless, military spokesmen said. Casualties among the villagers and their militia defenders were not immediately known.

In the fighting 18 miles southwest of Saigon, enemy troops using a blindfolded South Vietnamese prisoner as a decoy tried to slip through American lines after losing 34 dead in an all-night fight. Ten Americans of the 9th Infantry Division were reported killed and nine wounded.

American bombers had pounded the company of about 115 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong infiltrators, and some 1,500 rounds of American artillery were poured into an area about 800 yards in diameter during the night.

The enemy troops shoved a South Vietnamese prisoner in front of them in the darkness before dawn, trying to lure the Americans into firing on him while they slipped away in small groups. The plan backfired. A Claymore mine went off, scattering hundreds of shrapnel fragments. It knocked the blindfolded South Vietnamese down but killed three enemy soldiers behind him.

Rescued by the U.S. infantry.

New York Outbreaks Continue

NEW YORK (AP) — Police reinforcements were called to the Lower East Side Tuesday night for the fourth consecutive night after a residents' parade against use of Tactical Patrol Force units in their neighborhood broke up into a bottle-throwing attack on police.

Some 250 members of the TPF, which is specially trained in riot and crowd control, cleared the streets adjoining Avenue C and Sixth Street at 10 p.m. After several hours of relative quiet, another bottle-throwing spree led plainclothes detectives to sweep along Sixth Street telling people to get inside the tenements in the predominantly Puerto Rican area.

At one point, plainclothesmen entered a tenement with guns drawn and arrested six persons, including one woman. They were charged with disorderly conduct.

Seven other arrests were made, including two for burglary at a local supermarket. No injuries were reported.

Earlier, two policemen were struck by thrown bottles in the Coney Island section of Brooklyn, hours after Mayor John V. Lindsay walked through the tense neighborhood, which had seen three straight nights of unrest.

The policemen were not seriously injured and the Brooklyn neighborhood was quiet for the rest of the night.

Draft Resister Returns to U.S.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert W. Holmstrom, who went to Canada to avoid the draft, was inducted into the Army Tuesday after he voluntarily returned from a 13-month exile.

Holmstrom, 25, said he left the country because of his opposition to the Vietnam war, but had a change of attitude because of President Johnson's agreement to negotiate with North Vietnam.

Assistant U.S. Atty. Frederick K. Jurek had granted amnesty to Holmstrom after receiving a letter from him. Jurek said Holmstrom passed his physical and left shortly after for basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky.

men, the South Vietnamese said he had been held captive two months. He said the enemy company was holding eight other South Vietnamese soldiers and using them to carry arms and ammunition. Their fate was not known.

The U.S. troops also sprayed the enemy positions with tear gas, flushing out six of the enemy who were captured.

The enemy force was believed to be part of six to eight battalions that U.S. intelligence officers say are deployed in Long An Province, immediately south of Saigon.

The American casualties included two men killed aboard a helicopter shot down by enemy ground fire. Two other choppers were hit, but damage was reported minor.

Meanwhile, Australian and New Zealand soldiers were locked in heavy fighting with one or two Viet Cong platoons holed up in bunkers about 25 miles east of Saigon.

Steel Union Locals Vote Overwhelmingly for Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — United Steelworkers union members have armed their negotiators with an overwhelming vote of confidence as they race against a strike deadline a week away.

Thousands of the rank and file, in meetings, by voice, and by ballot across the nation, told their bargainers they would walk out of the mills if no contract is signed by Aug. 1.

Although the negotiations are secret, no money is believed to be on the table for the big dollar items like wages, pensions, vacations and unemployment insurance.

"This will shake the money loose," said one union district director as he reported his men better than 90 per cent in favor of a strike.

The vote, taken Tuesday in 600 union halls across the country, was the first of its kind for the nation's third largest union.

Reports from 83 locals representing about 180,000 men showed that some 3,700, or just over 2 per cent, were opposed. Figures from a dozen that took secret paper ballots showed 14 per cent opposed.

Each local was allowed to take the vote as it pleased. Most held meetings as the shifts changed and asked for a show of hands, yeas and nays, or standup vote.

Most meetings were attended by a third or less of the total membership but union rules allowed the vote to stand for the entire local.

Union leadership is under strong pressure to match the 6 per cent it won in the can and aluminum industries earlier this year, despite President Johnson's plea for wage restraint.

Steelworkers averaged $3.84 an hour in May, and the industry says fringe benefits added another $1.09. But the union has lost ground in recent years to other big industrial unions, especially the autoworkers, who also won a 6 per cent increase this year.

The steel industry says a 6 per cent increase each year over a three-year contract will wipe out two-thirds of its profits and put some companies out of business.

Maddox Admirer Held for Having Concealed Gun

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A Cincinnati, arrested with a loaded 22-caliber pistol in his possession in the hotel headquarters of the National Governors' Conference, was released on $1,000 bond Tuesday night.

Thomas Andrew McKeown, 20, was arrested Tuesday afternoon in the Sheraton-Gibson lobby by when a security guard of Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia discovered he was carrying the six-shot pistol.

McKeown was charged with carrying a concealed weapon. He reportedly is an avid fan of Maddox, who appeared unperturbed about the incident.

McKeown was taken into custody inside the lobby door as Maddox was entering the hotel. Maddox' chief security aide, Capt. Steve Polk, a Georgia patrolman, said he "brushed down" McKeown after he had seen the man following Maddox from the convention center to the hotel, a distance of three blocks.

Police reinforcements were rushed in—and some tried to chase small boys, attracted by the gunfire, off the streets.

A woman, declining identification, said she rushed to an upstairs room after seeing the shooting begin. She quoted one of the boys as telling the officers, "they're not after us, they're after you. They want you, not us."

Gov. James A. Rhodes, alerted at the National Governors' Conference in Cincinnati, promptly mobilized Ohio's 15,250 National Guardsmen.

The office of the adjutant general in Columbus immediately committed 4,000 men to Cleveland, the state's biggest city. Its population of more than 800,000 includes about 350,000 Negroes.

Mayor Carl B. Stokes, a Negro who took office last November, appealed to all citizens to "stay home and cooperate with the police."

Stokes described the situation as "bad" but at dawn said it was "controlled."

The trouble started along Lakeview Avenue and spread to other nearby residential and business districts.

At least 18 persons were hurt. Eleven policemen were shot, two critically. Three others had minor injuries not caused by gunfire.

Ohio Adj. Gen. Sylvester T. Del Corso, summoned from Akron to command the guardsmen, said "I see some evidence of a plot" involving black nationalists.

Witnesses said the snipers appeared to have an organized battle plan. Some used automatic carbines. On the body of one dead sniper was a bandolier of shotgun shells, a gas mask by his side.

The three dead policemen—apparently the first victims in the shootout—were Lt. Leroy Jones, and Patrolmen Louis Goulonka and Willard Wolf.

The civilian victims were James Chapman and James Haynes, both Negroes from Cleveland, and Clifford Miller, of Twinsburg, Ohio, who was white.

There was an unidentified Negro at Huron Road Hospital and three more unidentified Negroes at the morgue.

After the shooting began, police cars rushed to the scene. As more and more officers were pinned down by the whining bullets urgent radio calls went out for more assistance.

Wounded policemen crawled to cover.

"Get some more cars down here, we can't get to the wounded," were the messages on the police radio. "Get some high powered stuff. . . Some tear gas. . . We're sitting ducks."

Police, returning the fire at snipers held up in an apartment said they heard shouts, "We'll shoot anything white."

After some fires were started, snipers began shooting at firemen and police ordered the firefighters out of the area.

A supermarket burned down. An apartment house was heavily damaged by uncontrolled flames.

There were conflicting stories on how the shooting began.

One report said snipers began shooting at a police vehicle on Lakeview Avenue, hitting the three officers. Another said the policemen had gone to the area to remove an abandoned auto.

Sheriff Gets FSB Escapees

Two juvenile escapees from the Fairfield School for Boys were apprehended today in the village of Meade by Pickaway County Sheriff Dwight Radcliff. The two youths, who had apparently run away from the school at about 3 a.m. today, were seen in the village by Lloyd Hupp of Tarleton. Hupp promptly called the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department and stayed in Meade to offer assistance to Sheriff Radcliff when he arrived minutes later to make the arrest. The two youths, one 16 and the other 17, admitted to breaking into a vacant home formerly occupied by Dow West, on Route 159, and into another house, possibly near Whisler, Sheriff Radcliff believes.

TAKEN from the West home were a flashlight and articles of clothing. The youths took a radio and a watch from the other home. The sheriff said that charges of breaking and entering would be filed against the pair in Pickaway County Juvenile Court. One of the youths was from Ft. Gay, W. Va., and the other from Cleveland. The youth from West Virginia told Sheriff Radcliff that he had been arrested once before in Pickaway County several years ago when he ran away from home.

Israelis, Jordanians Duel; Eban Sees New War Near

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israeli and Jordanian troops fought a brief skirmish across the River Jordan today south of the Sea of Galilee, the army said. The engagement was touched off when an armored car belonging to the border police came under light arms fire near Neve Ur in the Beisan Valley, the Israelis charged. The fire was returned. The army also announced that an Israeli soldier whose command car hit a mine in the upper Galilee Tuesday has died of his injuries. Two other soldiers were wounded in the blast. And in Jerusalem, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said today that President Gamal Abdel Nasser is looking for a new war to liquidate Israel. The Egyptian president told the inaugural congress of the Arab Socialist Union in Cairo Tuesday that the Middle East crisis "could explode any minute" into a world conflict. He said prospects for a settlement with Israel were slim and U.N. efforts to bring about peace in the area had gained nothing. Eban called Nasser's speech "a brutally clear and conducive picture of... a policy of total, unreserved and uncompromising opposition to peace." "This statement... destroys any possible illusion about Egyptian moderation," Eban declared. "Nasser's policy is to have a new war in the Middle East for the purpose of bringing about Israel's complete liquidation." "He is against peace, against agreement, against negotiation, against the recognition of Israel's sovereignty," he added. Nasser declared once again that there can be no peace as long as Arab lands are occupied by Israel. He also praised the Soviet Union for rearming Egypt after its defeat in the six-day war in June, 1967. Nasser also hinted that he might like to hand over authority to a younger generation. "We have been in power for 16 years, but as far as I am concerned each year was the equivalent of 10," he said. "I would like to stand here tonight and pass on the banner to a younger generation more in tune with the times. But the banner is stained and we would have been doing that generation an injustice by handing it to them with a black spot."

Albanians Eject 8 Bulgarians

VIENNA (AP) — The Bulgarian ambassador, six embassy officials and a journalist of the Bulgarian news agency BTA have been expelled from Albania for "hostile activities," the Albanian Radio reported today. Presumably the expulsion was in retaliation for the earlier expulsion of the Albanian ambassador and five embassy officials from Bulgaria. They were charged with having incited citizens to carry out antistate activities. The broadcast from Tirana, the Albanian capital, rejected this charge and said it was only pretence to divert the "Bulgarian people's attention from the serious situation in the country." The Bulgarian news agency had said despite the expulsion of the Albanian diplomats, diplomatic ties between the two countries would not be broken. Albania goes all the way with Red China in the feud between Peking and Moscow.

Light to Shine In Pickaway Sky

Increased flight activity from Lockbourne AFB will bring a bright light to central Ohio night skies. Instructors and students of one of Lockbourne's newest units, the 4413th Combat Crew Training Squadron, are now flying their modified C-119 aircraft. The modified planes feature an illuminator or bright light used to light up ground areas during night flights. The movable light will appear extremely bright and usually move in a circular pattern. The light is part of routine Air Force training and area residents should not be alarmed.

Police Investigate Separate, Similar Mishaps Tuesday

Circleville Police Department investigated two separate accidents within the city Tuesday which happened in the same manner. In both cases, drivers were making left hand turns when they took their eyes from the road and hit parked cars. One person received injury in the accidents. Jacqueline Jolliffe, 39, of 270 Walnut Creek Pike, told police she was turning from Scioto St. left onto High St. when her turn signal stuck. She looked down at it and hit a car belonging to Lawrence Oupp, 155 W. High St. The driver sustained a bump to her nose and was referred to her doctor. The front of the Jolliffe car and the rear of the Oupp car were both damaged. At 6:45 p.m. Kenneth Crawford, 32, of 125 Walnut St. was turning left from Walnut St. onto Pickaway St. when a box on the back seat fell. He turned around to stop it when he hit a parked vehicle belonging to Charles McClure, 966 S. Pickaway St. Both autos were damaged. Crawford was not injured.

(AP)—Albert Caprett, 44, of Berea, Ohio and sons, Jeffrey 16 and Michael 11, were killed Tuesday when their station wagon collided with a truck at a highway intersection near Cave City, north of here. Caprett's wife, Hilda, 41, and another son, Danny, were in critical condition at St. Joseph Infirmary in Louisville.

Destroy 'Pot'

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Shawnee County weed spraying crews are destroying a field of marijuana estimated to be worth more than $1 million on the illicit market after processing. The weed often grows wild in Kansas.

Viet Ground Action Continues

SAIGON (AP) — Allied forces battled Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops southwest and east of Saigon today and uncovered sizable weapons caches in other areas near South Vietnam's threatened capital. In the northern provinces, another vulnerable sector, the Viet Cong kept up the pressure on outposts and provincial capitals with a second day of mortar attacks and light ground probes. One Viet Cong company broke into a village 15 miles southeast of Da Nang and burned it to the ground, leaving all 1,400 inhabitants homeless, military spokesmen said. Casualties among the villagers and their militia defenders were not immediately known. In the fighting 18 miles southwest of Saigon, enemy troops using a blindfolded South Vietnamese prisoner as a decoy tried to slip through American lines after losing 34 dead in an all-night fight. Ten Americans of the 9th Infantry Division were reported killed and nine wounded. American bombers had pounded the company of about 115 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong infiltrators, and some 1,500 rounds of American artillery were poured into an area about 800 yards in diameter during the night. The enemy troops shoved a South Vietnamese prisoner in front of them in the darkness before dawn, trying to lure the Americans into firing on him while they slipped away in small groups. The plan backfired. A Claymore mine went off, scattering hundreds of shrapnel fragments. It knocked the blindfolded South Vietnamese down but killed three enemy soldiers behind him. Rescued by the U.S. infantrymen, the South Vietnamese said he had been held captive two months. He said the enemy company was holding eight other South Vietnamese soldiers and using them to carry arms and ammunition. Their fate was not known. The U.S. troops also sprayed the enemy positions with tear gas, flushing out six of the enemy who were captured. The enemy force was believed to be part of six to eight battalions that U.S. intelligence officers say are deployed in Long An Province, immediately south of Saigon. The American casualties included two men killed aboard a helicopter shot down by enemy ground fire. Two other choppers were hit, but damage was reported minor. Meanwhile, Australian and New Zealand soldiers were locked in heavy fighting with one or two Viet Cong platoons holed up in bunkers about 25 miles east of Saigon.

Steel Union Locals Vote Overwhelmingly for Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP) — United Steelworkers union members have armed their negotiators with an overwhelming vote of confidence as they race against a strike deadline a week away. Thousands of the rank and file, in meetings, by voice, and by ballot across the nation, told their bargainers they would walk out of the mills if no contract is signed by Aug. 1. Although the negotiations are secret, no money is believed to be on the table for the big dollar items like wages, pensions, vacations and unemployment insurance. "This will shake the money loose," said one union district director as he reported his men better than 90 per cent in favor of a strike. The vote, taken Tuesday in 600 union halls across the country, was the first of its kind for the nation's third largest union. Reports from 83 locals representing about 180,000 men showed that some 3,700, or just over 2 per cent, were opposed. Figures from a dozen that took secret paper ballots showed 14 per cent opposed. Each local was allowed to take the vote as it pleased. Most held meetings as the shifts changed and asked for a show of hands, yeas and nays, or standup vote. Most meetings were attended by a third or less of the total membership but union rules allowed the vote to stand for the entire local. Union leadership is under strong pressure to match the 6 per cent it won in the can and aluminum industries earlier this year, despite President Johnson's plea for wage restraint. Steelworkers averaged $3.84 an hour in May, and the industry says fringe benefits added another $1.09. But the union has lost ground in recent years to other big industrial unions, especially the autoworkers, who also won a 6 per cent increase this year. The steel industry says a 6 per cent increase each year over a three-year contract will wipe out two-thirds of its profits and put some companies out of business.

Draft Resister Returns to U.S.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Robert W. Holmstrom, who went to Canada to avoid the draft, was inducted into the Army Tuesday after he voluntarily returned from a 13-month exile. Holmstrom, 25, said he left the country because of his opposition to the Vietnam war, but had a change of attitude because of President Johnson's agreement to negotiate with North Vietnam. Assistant U.S. Atty. Frederick K. Jurek had granted amnesty to Holmstrom after receiving a letter from him. Jurek said Holmstrom passed his physical and left shortly after for basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky.

False Alarm

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard detectives rushed to the Tower of London Tuesday and sealed off the tourist center after the burglar alarm sounded in the room housing the crown jewels. It was a false alarm caused by an electrical fault.

10 Die . . .

Police reinforcements were rushed in—and some tried to chase small boys, attracted by the gunfire, off the streets. A woman, declining identification, said she rushed to an upstairs room after seeing the shooting begin. She quoted one of the boys as telling the officers, "they're not after us, they're after you. They want you, not us!" Gov. James A. Rhodes, alerted at the National Governors Conference in Cincinnati, promptly mobilized Ohio's 15,250 National Guardsmen. The office of the adjutant general in Columbus immediately committed 4,000 men to Cleveland, the state's biggest city. Its population of more than 800,000 includes about 350,000 Negroes. Mayor Carl B. Stokes, a Negro who took office last November, appealed to all citizens to "stay home and cooperate with the police." Stokes described the situation as "bad" but at dawn said it was "controlled." The trouble started along Lakeview Avenue and spread to other nearby residential and business districts. At least 18 persons were hurt. Eleven policemen were shot, two critically. Three others had minor injuries not caused by gunfire. Ohio Adj. Gen. Sylvester T. Del Corso, summoned from Akron to command the guardsmen, said "I see some evidence of a plot" involving black nationalists. Witnesses said the snipers appeared to have an organized battle plan. Some used automatic carbines. On the body of one dead sniper was a bandolier of shotgun shells, a gas mask by his side. The three dead policemen—apparently the first victims in the shootout—were Lt. Leroy Jones, and Patrolmen Louis Goulonka and Willard Wolf. The civilian victims were James Chapman and James Haynes, both Negroes from Cleveland, and Clifford Miller, of Twinsburg, Ohio, who was white. There was an unidentified Negro at Huron Road Hospital and three more unidentified Negroes at the morgue. After the shooting began, police cars rushed to the scene. As more and more officers were pinned down by the whining bullets urgent radio calls went out for more assistance. Wounded policemen crawled to cover. "Get some more cars down here, we can't get to the wounded," were the messages on the police radio. "Get some high powered stuff. Some tear gas. We need an armored vehicle. We're sitting ducks." Police, returning the fire at snipers holed up in an apartment said they heard shouts, "We'll shoot anything white." After some fires were started, snipers began shooting at firemen and police ordered the firefighters out of the area. A supermarket burned down. An apartment house was heavily damaged by uncontrolled flames. There were conflicting stories on how the shooting began. One report said snipers began shooting at a police vehicle on Lakeview Avenue, hitting the three officers. Another said the policemen had gone to the area to remove an abandoned auto.

Surfeit of Spies

The spy business has boomed so extensively it takes as much as days for Washington's Defense Intelligence Agency to get around to evaluating some of its secret information.

A House subcommittee casting a critical eye on undercover operations thinks this smacks of management "disarray," particularly since proper intelligence might have averted U.S. embarrassment like the Israeli bombing of an American intelligence ship, the North Koreans' seizure of the Pueblo and the surprise communist attack on Vietnam cities during the Tet truce.

DIA officials, while agreeing there is need for improvement, insist that emergency information is analyzed when received and that background and file material can be studied in due course.

It is reassuring to learn, too, that the unprocessed data on Southeast Asia, which once filled 517 linear feet of drawer space at DIA headquarters, has been reduced by diligent effort to two feet.

One can only hope that ineptness at espionage is not limited to this side of the iron and bamboo curtains.

Justice Department Report Said Fortas Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP) — An opponent of President Johnson's Supreme Court nominations has labeled as propaganda a Justice Department report favorable to chief-justice-designate Abe Fortas.

The comment was made Monday to the Senate Judiciary Committee by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., whose request that Justice Department representatives be called to explain the report at today's committee session was granted by Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss.

The unexpected development came after the committee apparently had wound up its hearings into Fortas' nomination to succeed Earl Warren and—at least temporarily—into the nomination of Homer Thornberry to be an associate justice.

The Justice Department's 27-page memorandum on the "judicial performance of Mr. Justice Fortas" was put in the record last Saturday by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

Hart said he had requested it to provide "more balanced record" after the critical questioning of Fortas by Ervin and Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C.

The memorandum, commenting on decisions in which Fortas participated, concluded this way:

"Notwithstanding the quibbles about particular votes and decisions, the verdict of the American Bar . . . is that Justice Fortas has performed remarkably well in three years, fulfilling the promise that one of the nation's greatest lawyers should become one of its greatest justices."

Ervin called the Justice Department document an attempt "to propagandize the committee" and said he intended to answer it and wanted to question the lawyers who drafted it.

A LANDOWNER in Elberon, New Jersey, discovered that a big sign reading "Beware of the Dog" didn't discourage peddlers, and salesmen of brushes, insurance, magazine subscriptions, and encyclopedias. Then he added to "Beware of the Dog" a postscript that did the trick magnificently: "Hospital Emergency Ward Three Blocks to the Left."

In David Frost's new book, "The English," he recalls that way back in 1900 a London doctor named Walsh hailed the benefits about to be bestowed upon the British populace by the horseless carriage. True, he said, that it would enable them to get quickly from one place to another, but what was infinitely more important was that the outburst on horses would be a serious blow to the pestiferous common housefly. Thus, a major channel of infection would be done away with and the death rate in cities materially reduced.

But what actually happened? "Everybody accepted Dr. Walsh's authoritative statement except the common housefly," mourns David Frost. "It still seems to be circulating around, laying its eggs and spreading infection. Meanwhile, the horseless carriage, also flourishing prodigiously, is killing us off like flies!"

A new word won fifty bucks for a Detroit worker in a contest to find the worst-sounding name for a union non-joiner. Entries like "leech fungus," and "parasite" never stood a chance next to the winner's entry: "FLOM" (free leader on the membership).

Speaking of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Is dyspepsia a real disease or is it a symptom of a stomach disorder?

Dyspepsia is derived from the Greek "dys," meaning bad, and "pepsin," meaning digestion. The word, therefore, applies to almost any stomach upset that is associated with a sense of fullness, nausea, vomiting and an acidic taste in the mouth.

The term, dyspepsia, is sometimes used as a substitute for acute indigestion, acid stomach, gastritis and upset stomach. These short-term stomach upsets are called by a variety of names, none of which differs markedly from the other.

To these has been added another vague term, "the twenty-four-hour-virus," which has a certain kind of class distinction, but which really presents much the same symptoms.

It is interesting to note that there are very few basic symptoms caused by disorders, inflammations and infections of the stomach and the upper intestine. It is for this reason that self-diagnosis of indigestion or dyspepsia, must not be made, especially if the condition occurs frequently.

The stomach is said to be a very good neighbor and makes the loudest noise when organs in its immediate vicinity become sick. Diseases of the gall bladder, the pancreas, the liver and the duodenum may make the stomach the loudest complainer with the identical symptoms of nausea, vomiting and heartburn.

It takes the discriminating judgment of a physician to distinguish by the history of the origin of the condition, the frequency with which it occurs and other clinical evidence, to come to a firm conclusion about the basic cause. This is most important because early treatment of the "vague dyspepsia" keeps the condition confined and uncomplicated.

Is it possible to look directly into the lung to find the cause of a chronic cough?

A procedure known as bronchoscopy is one that can be done either under local or general anesthesia. An instrument, the bronchoscope, is a rigid metal tube that comes in many lengths and widths, chosen according to the size and age of the patient. It is passed through the mouth, past the larynx and beyond the trachea, and into the lungs.

By this method almost all the bronchial tubes can be carefully examined for the possibility of chronic infection and growths. Clutres and sputum examinations can be made directly through the bronchoscope and can add valuable information for the diagnosis of complex lung conditions.

It is possible to instill a liquid dye through the bronchoscope, allowing it to trickle down even into more inaccessible areas. By X-ray, the dye is followed, and often reveals disease that might otherwise remain hidden. Foreign bodies of every conceivable kind have been removed from the lungs through the bronchoscope. At the Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital, there are on display hundreds of objects removed from the lungs of children and adults. The hardware, like nails, screws, safety pins, bobby pins, dentures, springs and toys, are but a handful of those that stand as mute testimony to the indiscriminate swallower and to the success of bronchoscopy. A similar technique called esophagoscopy is used to examine the esophagus, the tube that leads from the mouth to the stomach. This, too, adds important diagnostic information.

Highly polished floors are attractive, but less so to those who have slipped and broken their hips.

JOHANNESBURG South Africa (AP) — A postman's lot is not a happy one in South Africa's largest city. The Johannesburg Post Office reports that since January, 11 of its 600 letter carriers were bitten by dogs, one tumbled over pipes in a new building and another fell four flights after slipping on a banana peel. The Business World

By DOUG BAILEY (For John Cuniff)

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — The United Steelworkers used to be known as a tough-talking, strike-happy union.

In the 13 years between 1946 and 1959, the steelworkers walked out of the mills six times, for periods ranging from 12 hours to four months.

Now it has been almost 10 years since there was a general strike in the steel industry. The union's new president, I. W. Abel, is doing all he can to keep the boiling point of the current contract negotiations low.

The secrecy surrounding the bargaining is the most strict in memory. Even high union officials below the rank of the top five-man committee complain they don't know what's being proposed for the crucial wage-benefits package.

Abel has talked to reporters only three times since industry-wide bargaining began June 3. In the past union and management held news conferences and described each other's positions in less than complimentary terms.

This time Abel has used the most cautious language when he has been in public. Leading questions that give him a chance to knock the industry are sidetracked. A reporter who heard Abel tell a closed meeting, "If strike we must, strike we will"—the closest thing to militancy so far—was later upbraided by the union for publishing it.

Although there is no doubt that Abel will lead his 450,000 men out of the mills if he doesn't get what he wants by Aug. 1, there is also no doubt that he doesn't want to.

It was Abel who backed a proposal for arbitration to avoid the boom-bust pattern of steel production that jars the industry in every contract year. The idea was killed by the rank and file.

At the only meeting of the 600 local union presidents in basic steel, Abel took a great deal of time to explain the problems of imported steel. He pointed out that last year's imports, 11.5 million tons, were greater than the combined output of two of the nation's largest companies, Republic and Armco.

Translated another way, industry and union spokesmen say last year's foreign steel meant 58,000 fewer jobs for American steelworkers.

Foreign steelmakers now have an annual excess capacity of 55 million tons—more than half the needs of the American economy. A strike will mean that imported steel will grab new footholds with long-term contracts and cost thousands of jobs. . . and union members.

In addition, when the contract expires next week, American steel consumers will have 36 million tons of steel in their stockpiles, almost four months' supply in normal times.

And a steel strike does not shut down domestic production. The union itself acknowledges that companies with 20 per cent of the nation's steel producing capacity would continue to operate because of separate contracts. A recent study by a Cleveland economist said that, in the four longest steel strikes, the industry continued to cast at 40 per cent of the normal rate. Those are good reasons to speak softly.

HHH's Secret Weapon

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Why does former Governor of Alabama George Wallace keep at it? He can get a lot of votes by running on his third party ticket for President, but his persistence can only result in making it easier for his worst enemies. The better he does throughout the southern states, the easier it will be for Hubert Humphrey or Eugene McCarthy to win nationally.

It wasn't so very long ago that Governor Claude Kirk of Florida was saying that George Wallace was President Lyndon Johnson's secret weapon. Since then LBJ has removed himself from the picture. But Vice President Humphrey remains as Johnson's heir, with all that this could portend by way of making impossible pie-in-the-sky promises as the basis of the Democratic Party's campaign program. With people in the slums confidently expecting some new domestic "Marshall Plan" billions on the day after a Humphrey inauguration, there would most certainly be more rioting, more arson, more general lawlessness, once the inevitable period of disillusion had come. Is this what George Wallace wishes? Is this what his supporters, who are understandably attracted by his appeals for law and order, care to risk bringing about?

Candidate Richard Nixon has already said, at a press conference in Philadelphia, that neither he nor Hubert Humphrey would negotiate a deal with Wallace if the election were deadlocked and thrown into the House of Representatives. And what goes for Nixon and Humphrey must certainly go for Nelson Rockefeller and Eugene McCarthy, both of whom are further to the Left on the political spectrum. It must pique Wallace to know that the four presidential front-runners are surely all against sitting down with him no matter what the election circumstances might be. But if he is a realist, he must know that a Nixon success — or a dark horse miracle victory staged by Ronald Reagan — promises a more effective administration of anti-riot and anti-arson law than anything we would get out of a Humphrey, a McCarthy or a Nelson Rockefeller. It is not that the more Leftist candidates hold the law in contempt; it is only that they would unleash those expectations of an Instant Utopia that must find ultimate sublimation in anarchy and a destruction when the promised bit of Heaven fails to materialize. When the realization dawns that he is actually behaving as Hubert Humphrey's most potent weapon, won't Wallace step to one side? He could have been a shoo-in as U.S. Senator from Alabama if he had only waked to reality in time. He still has a future in Southern politics if he stays clear of any national fiasco. But if he persists in his course only to throw the election into the House, he stands to go down in history as the electoral votes of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia, and, possibly, another state or two. But, as Nixon has pointed out, this does not mean that the Congressmen from these states would do his bidding. They would, as Nixon says, deliver their states to Hubert Humphrey in the House simply because Democrats would insist on behaving as Democrats. In case of a prospective tie vote, some deal would be made between the Democrats and the Republicans to share the fruits of the election. Wallace would be on the outside looking in. Wallace stands to hurt Nixon by blunting the Republican upsurge that has been turning the South into a two-party region. He could win for Humphrey without throwing the election into the House. By naming Ronald Reagan as his Vice Presidential choice, Nixon might save the day for the Republicans in some of the states that would otherwise go to Humphrey or to Wallace himself. But no matter how the Republicans play it, Wallace will help the Humphrey or the McCarthy Democrats to some degree as long as he insists on running. If the Republicans should by any chance nominate Rockefeller, the Wallace damage to the Republican Party would not be less. For Rockefeller can hardly win the South under any circumstances, and he would lose votes in the North to Wallace on the law and order issue that Nixon, with his promise of law enforcement, might retain. It all narrows down to one question: Does George Wallace want to make Hubert Humphrey or Eugene McCarthy President? If he does, he will go on running. If not, he will bow out of the picture.

Surfeit of Spies

The spy business has boomed so extensively it takes as much as days for Washington's Defense Intelligence Agency to get around to evaluating some of its secret information.

A House subcommittee casting a critical eye on undercover operations thinks this smacks of management "disarray," particularly since proper intelligence might have averted U.S. embarrassment like the Israeli bombing of an American intelligence ship, the North Koreans' seizure of the Pueblo and the surprise communist attack on Vietnam cities during the Tet truce.

DIA officials, while agreeing there is need for improvement, insist that emergency information is analyzed when received and that background and file material can be studied in due course.

It is reassuring to learn, too, that the unprocessed data on Southeast Asia, which once filled 517 linear feet of drawer space at DIA headquarters, has been reduced by diligent effort to two feet.

One can only hope that ineptness at espionage is not limited to this side of the iron and bamboo curtains.

Justice Department Report Said Fortas Propaganda

WASHINGTON (AP) — An opponent of President Johnson's Supreme Court nominations has labeled as propaganda a Justice Department report favorable to chief-justice-designate Abe Fortas.

The comment was made Monday to the Senate Judiciary Committee by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., whose request that Justice Department representatives be called to explain the report at today's committee session was granted by Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss.

The unexpected development came after the committee apparently had wound up its hearings into Fortas' nomination to succeed Earl Warren and—at least temporarily—into the nomination of Homer Thornberry to be an associate justice.

The Justice Department's 27-page memorandum on the "judicial performance of Mr. Justice Fortas" was put in the record last Saturday by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich.

Hart said he had requested it to provide "more balanced record" after the critical questioning of Fortas by Ervin and Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C.

The memorandum, commenting on decisions in which Fortas participated, concluded this way:

"Notwithstanding the quibbles about particular votes and deci-

Dear Editor:

Since the resurrection of Christ over 2,000 years ago, the Christian has set aside the first day of the week as a Holy Day of worshiping the Lord as a church or body of holy believers.

We are living in the day of apostasy and materialism — when holy day means holiday. When recreation means recreation, not the Holy Spirit recreating the natural man into a spiritual man.

It is time that all Christians stand up and be counted — when man no longer gives authority — and takes away the privilege of man's liberty of attending church on Sunday — because the merchants of Circleville are letting the almighty dollar or monetary values take first place in their lives and those that they gainfully employ.

Christian: it will be up to you and I if we trade at these stores who have forgotten what day of the week Sunday was made or set aside for, by God.

If we trade or buy on Sunday, we are as guilty as those who keep the stores open.

If behooves each of us as Christians to also ban or not trade at these stores during the week who do not close on Sunday. We can boycott these merchants during the week and give our business to merchants who observe Sunday for man to worship God and as a day in honoring the Savior, our Lord.

At this time I would like to say a word on the behalf of the "good kids" of our community. We hear too little of

I think along these lines the dear people who devote their time, should be given credit also. Many times these school teachers, Sunday school teachers, doctors, counselors, ministers, and other young adults give many hours of their time and knowledge.

My son has just completed a week of camping at Camp Otterbein United Methodist Camp at Logan, Ohio.

Here at this camp is truly a lot of wonderful young vibrant youth wanting to dedicate their life for their Lord and Savior. Today, many young adults are searching for something, the unknown ingredient to a happy and full life is Jesus Christ. He will and can help all who will accept him. He will knock at our hearts door, all we have to do is let Him in.

Mike was made "most valuable camper of the week" at camp, and he considers this quite an honor, and all the other approximately 80 children were glad for him also.

Many of the youth today have expressed that perhaps they would not have been in trouble if someone had cared for them,

He can get a lot of votes by running on his third party ticket for President, but his persistence can only result in making it easier for his worst enemies. The better he does throughout the southern states, the easier it will be for Hubert Humphrey or Eugene McCarthy to win nationally.

It wasn't so very long ago that Governor Claude Kirk of Florida was saying that George Wallace was President Lyndon Johnson's secret weapon. Since then LBJ has removed himself from the picture. But Vice President Humphrey remains as Johnson's heir, with all that that could portend by way of making impossible pie-in-the-sky promises as the basis of the Democratic Party's campaign program. With people in the slums confidently expecting some new domestic "Marshall Plan" billions on the day after a Humphrey inauguration, there would most certainly be more rioting, more arson, more general lawlessness, once the inevitable period of disillusion had come. Is this what George Wallace wishes? Is this what his supporters, who are understandably attracted by his appeals for law and order, care to risk bringing about?

Candidate Richard Nixon has already said, at a press conference in Philadelphia, that neither he nor Hubert Humphrey would negotiate a deal with Wallace if the election were deadlocked and thrown into the House of Representatives. And what goes for Nixon and Humphrey must certainly go for Nelson Rockefeller and Eugene McCarthy, both of whom are further to the Left on the political spectrum. It must pique Wallace to know that the four presidential front-runners are surely all against sitting down with him no matter what the election circumstances might be. But if he is a realist, he must know that a Nixon success — or a dark horse miracle victory staged by Ronald Reagan — promises a more effective administration of anti-riot and anti-arson law than anything we would get out of a Humphrey, a McCarthy or a Nelson Rockefeller. It is not that the more Leftist candidates hold the law in contempt; it is only that they would unleash those expectations of an Instant Utopia that must find ultimate sublimation in anarchy and destruction when the promised bit of Heaven fails to materialize.

When the realization dawns that he is actually behaving as Hubert Humphrey's most potent weapon, won't Wallace step to one side? He could have been a shoo-in as U.S. Senator from Alabama if he had only waked to reality in time. He still has a future in Southern politics if he stays clear of any national fiasco. But if he persists in his course only to throw the election into the House, he stands to go down in history as the spoiled spoiler. He could win the electoral votes of Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Georgia, and, possibly, another state or two. But, as Nixon has pointed out, this does not mean that the Congressmen from these states would do his bidding. They would, as Nixon says, deliver their states to Hubert Humphrey in the House simply because Democrats would insist on behaving as Democrats. In case of a prospective tie vote, some deal would be made between the Democrats and the Republicans to share the fruits of the election. Wallace would be on the outside looking in. Wallace stands to hurt Nixon by blunting the Republican upsurge that has been turning the South into a two-party region. He could win for Humphrey without throwing the election into the House. By naming Ronald Reagan as his Vice Presidential choice, Nixon might save the day for the Republicans in some of the states that would otherwise go to Humphrey or to Wallace himself. But no matter how the Republicans play it, Wallace will help the Humphrey or the McCarthy Democrats to some degree as long as he insists on running. If the Republicans should by any chance nominate Rockefeller, the Wallace damage to the Republican Party would not be less. For Rockefeller can hardly win the South under any circumstances, and he would lose votes in the North to Wallace on the law and order issue that Nixon, with his promise of law enforcement, might retain.

It all narrows down to one question: Does George Wallace want to make Hubert Humphrey or Eugene McCarthy President? If he does, he will go on running. If not, he will bow out of the picture.

JULY 1943
25 YEARS AGO

A new clock was in operation atop the county courthouse. It replaced the time keeper used since the 1870s. Upon recommendations by the county commissioners, the weights and other scrapped material from the ancient court house clock was donated to the war effort by the New York firm that installed the timepiece.

Wallace Barr Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Barr of Amanda accepted a position as vocational agriculture instructor at Huntsville and Lewiston, O.

Curfew legislation, which juvenile and police authorities hoped would clean up the increasing juvenile delinquency problem, was started through Circleville council with approval of the ordinance expected by mid-August.

Age pensioners were given permission to aid farmers without such employment affecting their benefit status.

Families of the Jackson Twp. school district enjoyed an outing at the school building. The affair was one of the summer activities sponsored by the PTA of the school.

Work started on the second oil pipe line through Pickaway County, supplementing the 24 inch line which carried crude oil from Texas to the east coast.

Mrs. Helen Steele Pickens was employed as Pickaway County health nurse. She replaced Mrs. Effie Hill, who had resigned her post of one year.

Esmeralda Canning Co. opened its processing season with its annual corn pack. This plant did not pack earlier crops as did Winnor Co. which had completed their packing of peas. The Crites Co. did not operate its New Holland plant due to the shortage of labor, a problem which faced all canners.

Local dairies raised the price of milk to homes by one cent, which brought the price to 14 cents per quart.

The rainfall in July 1943 was the second highest for 25 years according to records kept at the disposal plant.

A Short Vacation

By JEAN CRIST

This past week my family and I went to northern Ohio to the poor man's Disneyland, otherwise known as Cedar Point. For those of you interested in visiting the park, I would suggest you take with you these three things, (1.) plenty of money, (2.) a good pair of walking shoes, (3.) unlimited patience for waiting in line.

The visit to Cedar Point has become almost an annual one since the children never seem to tire of it. And those of us considered to be in the adult class, but who have never completely grown up, enjoy it, too.

My first impression of Cedar Point was a lasting one. At the admission gate we paid and were promptly stamped on the hand and tagged on the wrist with a little red string and a metal clip. I had the distinct feeling there wasn't a lot of difference between us and a herd of cattle. I wouldn't have been surprised if someone had slapped me on the posterior and yelled, "Let's move 'em out!"

Our first ride was one which resembled a ski-lift. We rode in cable cars at tree-top height across a stretch of land covered with tall trees. As we boarded the cars I noticed painters were still working on the building. I voiced my apprehension to my husband to the effect that maybe they didn't have everything put together tight enough yet if it wasn't completed to the point of being painted. He assured me they wouldn't possibly let us ride if it wasn't in good running order. Nevertheless, my apprehension stayed with me and increased when the wind began to sway the cars back and forth. I mentioned this fact to my fellow travelers and was immediately put down as a worrier. But I had my inning when we arrived at the point in the ride where we were supposed to turn and go back. They told us we would have to get off and take the train back, that the wind was blowing the cable cars and it was too dangerous to ride them because they could hit each other. The ride closed down for the rest of the day as soon as we got off. It was difficult but I refrained from saying, "I told you so!"

After several hours in 96 degree heat, riding on all manner of devious mechanical contraptions which went in every direction and walking for hours on what had to be the hottest and tidiest feet anyone ever had, I wondered to myself, "What am I doing here, why am I not at home where it's cooler and I don't have to wait in line for the restroom?" And then I realized what I had forgotten, I was on vacation. I was away from the hum-drum monotony of home. I was having a wonderful time! Before I could get the sense of this straight in my mind, I was distracted and told it was time to eat again.

When we finished our evening meal, we decided to have one last ride on the best of the rides and call it a day. It was raining gently throughout the park but for my group mere rain is not a deterrent. We decided we would all go on the log ride which is a boat-like affair in which you sit and are taken on somewhat of a roller-coaster ride in water. Needless to say, you often get wet from the splashing water, but it was ridiculous how wet we got. It looked threatening in the west when we were standing in line and the raindrops were getting bigger but as usual "old granny" was worrying unnecessarily again. But the rain did come. A cloud burst descended upon us right in the middle of the ride along with a strong wind which forced the water beneath us up in the boat. At the end of the ride, we ran for shelter although I still don't know why, for everything we had on was soaked. We couldn't have gotten wetter if we had stood in the rain for the rest of the day. Now I assumed this would end the day and I was already thinking how pleasant it would be to have a relaxing, hot bath and get off my feet.

My companions were shocked that I would consider going to the motel just because we were a "little" wet and it was still sprinkling. So we spent another two hours at the park in the arcade, riding on rides and eating fudge, ice cream and waffles. But finally, the understanding wife and permissive parent side of me wore off and I made such a fuss we went back to our motel room.

The next day we went to the Port Clinton Airport and flew the old Ford Trimotor plane to South Bass Island. There we rented bicycles to ride through the island. If you want to see something funny, you should see a rather reckless teen-ager guide a tandem bike with an adult flout twice his weight on the second seat. With this arrangement and inexperience in riding, it is difficult to maintain balance. This duo was not only all over the road but ended up in a field providing great entertainment for the several people walking along the road which led to town. I am happy to report no damage was done other than to the ego's of the participants and that they finally got the hang of riding tandem. The afternoon was spent browsing around the picturesque island and then we headed for home.

Now it's possible you could get the impression from what I have written that I didn't enjoy the two days we spent away from home. Well, I must admit there were minor inconveniences and details which I would have changed for myself, but watching the delighted, happy faces of my children made all these fade into oblivion and the single most important fact became clear. The children had a wonderful time and therefore so did I.

Admit Ray And Sneyd Same Man

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — James Earl Ray—charged with murdering Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.—is the same man arrested in London under the name of Ramon George Sneyd, his attorney admitted Monday.

Arthur Hanes made the statement to reporters after Ray, 40, had pleaded innocent to a charge of murdering King.

Ray will be tried Nov. 12 on a charge of murder—a trial which could last up to six weeks.

Hanes had never referred to his client as Ray until he met with newsmen after Monday's arraignment. And Ray, himself, had used the name Sneyd as recently as a week ago.

On July 19, while Ray was awaiting extradition from London, Hanes refused to tell the name of his client. "That is up to the prosecution to say," replied Hanes, a former mayor of Birmingham, Ala. "They made the charges and the allegations and they will have to establish his identity."

Ray, who has been identified as a Missouri prison escapee, was arrested at a London airport June 8—two months and four days after King was shot to death on the balcony of a Memphis motel.

Ray was arraigned Monday under extraordinary security, and after the 12-minute hearing was returned immediately to an air-conditioned four-cell suite on the third floor of Shelby County Jail.

In and Outdoor Wash Cleans House-Literally

By ELEANOR ROSS

This is the way we wash our house — inside, upstairs, downstairs and outside! Yes, increasingly, the trend is toward washable surfaces — walls, both inside and out.

Even fine vinyl-and plastic-coated papers are appearing with tough new finishes just made for thorough soap or detergent scrubbing. And the handsome new wood paneling, that is becoming so popular, is just as easy to clean. Some finishes are so sturdy that they can even withstand hot grease, alcohol and repeated exposure to water without impairing their appearances.

Simple To Apply

Paint is not to be overlooked in the easy-care category. The water-based types, formulated for both interior and exterior use, are easy to use and are quite scrubable. The brushes and rollers used to apply these paints come cleaner than ever before with a simple dunking in suds.

Outdoors, the news is even more spectacular and gratifying. Aluminum siding — that 20-year-old granddaddy of factory finishes — is sharing the spotlight now with wood, plywood, and hardboard which have been treated with synthetic coatings and films.

Not only do aluminum and the newer sidings have a much longer paint life, but they are immune or resistant to many of the problems besetting ordinary sidings — such as infestation and dry rot.

In And Out
Modern exterior paints and pre-finished sidings — and the interior panels, wallpapers, and paints — represent easy upkeep and significantly lower maintenance costs.

It would seem that we are rapidly approaching the era when only a good suds — and — water washdown, inside and out, will be needed to give a house lasting beauty with minimum cost and effort. If you are planning to build, remodel, or redecorate be sure to look at these newer products.

New Support Law Draws Fire From Social Workers

By DIANA STOVER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—For the past eight months the Ohio Department of Public Welfare has been conducting a county-based war to force deserting fathers to make nonsupport payments.

As a result, collections of nonsupport payments have increased all over the state. Lyle Lee, executive assistant to the state welfare director, estimated that collections this year will total $6 million—$1.5 million over those in 1967.

By comparison, $94.6 million was spent on all Aid to Dependent Children (ADC) programs in Ohio during fiscal 1968.

Several county officials said they favored the law which went into effect in November. Others said it caused problems and doubts.

One welfare official questioned whether the money gained is worth the manhours needed to collect it. Another says many of the fathers are juveniles unable to pay.

A prosecuting attorney said his county has such a volume of other cases it does not have much time to hunt down absent fathers.

Lee said the state would be lucky to collect from 10 per cent of all nonsupport cases by the end of the year. At present, it is collecting from about 6 per cent.

Although Franklin County Welfare Director Thomas Brittenham agrees that fathers should support their children, he said the law was "perhaps a bit hastily conceived" and was like "locking the barn door after the horse had been stolen."

The law requires county welfare departments to file charges against deserting parents of general relief or ADC children. The court determines whether the parents are able to pay and how much they are able to pay.

Under the law, the court will find the parents innocent if they have no income.

"I want to make it clear that I do not support fathers who say 'to hell with it' and walk out," Brittenham said.

The Franklin County director said he resented the reality that his social workers must spend about half of their time in non-administrative duties. He added, "The new law means an additional 2½ to 5 hours for each case."

"Their time should be spent rehabilitating and stabilizing the family before it breaks down," Brittenham said.

The Franklin County Welfare Department has added three investigators to its staff and is considering hiring a social-legal caseworker to administer the law.

In October, 1967, before the law took effect, Franklin County collected $25,836 in nonsupport payments. In May, 1968, this figure had risen to $38,526.

Brittenham said he "would like to study administrative costs to see if the law is worth the effort. When one considers the manhours spent, it might be that it is not worth it at all."

The Hamilton County Welfare Department reported that last year administrative costs totaled only about $45,000 and it collected about $900,000 in nonsupport cases.

Lee said Hamilton County started its drive to hunt down absent fathers and bring them to court some 15 years ago.

Even so, payments have increased from $69,590 in May, 1967, before the law took effect to $87,000 in May, 1968—seven months after the law was in operation.

In May, 1967, 89 nonsupport cases were filed in the county and 51 went to trial. In May, 1968, there were 156 cases filed and 95 went to trial.

Lee said Hamilton County "probably was doing the best of all the counties. He said although the other counties "have shown wonderful progress," they are not realizing their potential.

"Generally, the problem across the state is getting cases heard and getting the nonsupport payments collected," Lee said. "An order for nonsupport payments is of no use if you can't get it collected."

Lee explained since the court dockets are so crowded and there is a big backlog of cases in many counties, officials have a hard time getting nonsupport cases heard.

In addition, some counties, such as Cuyahoga, do not have enough probation officers to see that the court ordered payments are made, he said.

Lee said Cuyahoga County, which has about 25 per cent of all ADC cases in the state, was collecting about half of its potential. He said if nonsupport filings were significantly increased there, one-fourth of the state's problem would be solved.

Eugene Burns, Cuyahoga County welfare director, said his county collected upward of $900,000 from nonsupport cases in 1967 and should collect over $1 million this year.

"But, in the next several years, we should be able to go up to $2 million a year," Burns said.

Faith Corrigan, who works under Burns, said the department is unable to collect in many cases because "many of the fathers are juveniles who are simply unable to pay."

Mrs. Corrigan said the new law has had no appreciable effect in increasing enforcement activity in Cuyahoga County.

The Cuyahoga County Prosecuting Attorney, John T. Corrigan, agreed, saying, "nobody is hunting up absent parents here."

"It's like looking for a needle in a haystack," Corrigan explained. "A smaller county is able to devote more time to it. But, in the larger counties there is such a volume of cases..."

"But, these cases are definitely not a waste of time. No one knows how many people pay up purely out of fear of prosecution...if there was not a threat of prosecution, many people wouldn't pay a cent."

In Lucas County, collections increased from $19,904 in May, 1967, to $36,053 in May, 1968. In Summit County, collections increased from $17,825 in May, 1967, to $25,489 in May, 1968.

A&P HAS MORE BIG BUYS!

we care

Who cares if the blueberries in our blueberry pie are wild?

Some people may not care...but we care. Your grandmother's classic blueberry pies were baked with juicy, wild berries.

We think they're the best for pies.

So, we're stubborn.

Only wild berries get into our Jane Parker Blueberry pies.

In fact, we care so much about such things,

we've made just one big change in the classic recipe:

We bake only wild berries that are U.S. Grade A!

We're that fussy about all our baking.

No matter what it is, if it's baked by our Jane Parker Bakers, it's baked with quality ingredients.

It's baked with pride and care.

If you want proof that caring this much counts,

try a Jane Parker Blueberry Pie this week.

The price? It's as wild as the blueberries.

Boston Judge Rips Hippies

BOSTON (AP) — "You've made a disaster area out of what used to be the most beautiful part of Boston," Chief Justice Elijah Adlow told some 80 hippies charged in Municipal Court with violating a midnight curfew on Boston Common.

Adlow made the comment Monday when the group was arraigned. Sixty-seven, including 13 women, were taken into custody early Sunday morning and the rest early Monday.

Norman S. Zalkind, a lawyer representing the hippies, told the court they "were looking for something."

"Whatever it is, they won't find it at Beacon and Charles Streets (the northwest corner of the Common)," the judge replied.

The judge released about a dozen defendants who promised to leave the state. He fined some $20, and granted others probation if they agreed to stay away from the Common.

Youth Escapes Death in Crash

CINCINNATI (AP)—A 19-year-old Cincinnati youth survived a spectacular automobile crash Tuesday that resulted in the car's destruction by a train.

Spencer Cotton was listed in fair condition at Mercy Hospital in suburban Mariemont following the accident on Goshen Road in nearby Clermont County.

Police said Cotton apparently lost control of his car as he missed a curve. The auto went over an embankment, flipped over throwing him out and came to rest on railroad tracks.

Cotton, hurled into a fence near the railroad tracks, watched a train slam into his car. Cotton had to be cut out of the fence.

Liechtensteiners, Swiss Argue

VADUZ, Liechtenstein (AP) — Feeling is running high in little Liechtenstein because of "border incidents" with neighboring Switzerland.

The Liechtenstein Volksblatt, chief newspaper in the tiny principality of 21,000 inhabitants, charged today that Swiss traffic police have repeatedly violated the country's sovereignty by chasing motorists over the frontier.

The paper published a photograph showing a policeman from the neighboring Swiss canton of St. Gall booking a driver on Liechtenstein soil.

Liechtenstein has a customs union with Switzerland and uses the Swiss franc as currency but otherwise is a sovereign state.

Under the law, the court will find the parents innocent if they have no income.

"I want to make it clear that I do not support fathers who say 'to hell with it' and walk out," Brittenham said.

The Franklin County director said he resented the reality that his social workers must spend

"Their time should be spent rehabilitating and stabilizing the family before it breaks down," Brittenham said.

The Franklin County Welfare Department has added three investigators to its staff and is considering hiring a social legal caseworker to administer the law.

In October, 1967, before the law took effect, Franklin County collected $25,836 in nonsupport payments. In May, 1968, this figure had risen to $38,526.

Brittenham said he "would like to study administrative costs to see if the law is worth the effort. When one considers the manhours spent, it might be that it is not worth it at all."

The Hamilton County Welfare Department reported that last year administrative costs totaled only about $45,000 and it collected about $900,000 in nonsupport cases.

Lee said Hamilton County started its drive to hunt down absent fathers and bring them to court some 15 years ago.

Even so, payments have increased from $69,590 in May, 1967, before the law took effect to $87,000 in May, 1968—seven months after the law was in operation.

In May, 1967, 89 nonsupport cases were filed in the county and 51 went to trial. In May, 1968, there were 156 cases filed and 95 went to trial.

Lee said Hamilton County "probably was doing the best of all the counties. He said although the other counties "have shown wonderful progress," they are not realizing their potential. "Generally, the problem across the state is getting cases heard and getting the nonsupport payments collected," Lee said. "An order for nonsupport payments is of no use if you can't get it collected."

Lee explained since the court dockets are so crowded and there is a big backlog of cases in many counties, officials have a hard time getting nonsupport cases heard.

In addition, some counties, such as Cuyahoga, do not have enough probation officers to see that the court ordered payments are made, he said.

Lee said Cuyahoga County, which has about 25 per cent of all ADC cases in the state, was collecting about half of its potential. He said if nonsupport filings were significantly increased there, one-fourth of the state's problem would be solved.

Eugene Burns, Cuyahoga County welfare director, said his county collected upward of $900,000 from nonsupport cases in 1967 and should collect over $1 million this year.

"But, in the next several years, we should be able to go up to $2 million a year," Burns said.

Faith Corrigan, who works under Burns, said the department is unable to collect in many cases because "many of the fathers are juveniles who are simply unable to pay."

Mrs. Corrigan said the new law has had no appreciable effect in increasing enforcement activity in Cuyahoga County.

The Cuyahoga County Prosecutor Attorney, John T. Corrigan, agreed, saying, "nobody is hunting up absent parents here."

"It's like looking for a needle in a haystack," Corrigan explained. "A smaller county is able to devote more time to it. But, in the larger counties there is such a volume of cases..."

"But, these cases are definitely not a waste of time. No one knows how many people pay purely out of fear of prosecution...if there was not a threat of prosecution, many people wouldn't pay a cent."

In Lucas County, collections increased from $19,804 in May, 1967, to $36,053 in May, 1968. In Summit County, collections increased from $17,825 in May, 1967, to $25,489 in May, 1968.

A&P HAS MORE BIG BUYS!

we care

Who cares if the blueberries in our blueberry pie are wild?

Some people may not care...but we care. Your grandmother's classic blueberry pies were baked with juicy, wild berries.

We think they're the best for pies.

So, we're stubborn.

Only wild berries get into our Jane Parker Blueberry pies.

In fact, we care so much about such things,

we've made just one big change in the classic recipe:

We bake only wild berries that are U.S. Grade A!

We're that fussy about all our baking.

No matter what it is, if it's baked by our Jane Parker Bakers, it's baked with quality ingredients.

It's baked with pride and care.

If you want proof that caring this much counts,

try a Jane Parker Blueberry Pie this week.

The price? It's as wild as the blueberries.

Boston Judge Rips Hippies

BOSTON (AP) — "You've made a disaster area out of what used to be the most beautiful part of Boston," Chief Justice Elijah Adlow told some 80 hippies charged in Municipal Court with violating a midnight curfew on Boston Common.

Adlow made the comment Monday when the group was arraigned. Sixty-seven, including 13 women, were taken into custody early Sunday morning and the rest early Monday.

Norman S. Zalkind, a lawyer representing the hippies, told the court they "were looking for something."

"Whatever it is, they won't find it at Beacon and Charles Streets (the northwest corner of the Common)," the judge replied.

The judge released about a dozen defendants who promised to leave the state. He fined some $20, and granted others probation if they agreed to stay away from the Common.

Youth Escapes Death in Crash

CINCINNATI (AP)—A 19-year-old Cincinnati youth survived a spectacular automobile crash Tuesday that resulted in the car's destruction by a train.

Spencer Cotton was listed in fair condition at Mercy Hospital in suburban Mariemont following the accident on Goshen Road in nearby Clermont County.

Police said Cotton apparently lost control of his car as he missed a curve. The auto went over an embankment, flipped over throwing him out and came to rest on railroad tracks.

Cotton, hurled into a fence near the railroad tracks, watched a train slam into his car. Cotton had to be cut out of the fence.

Liechtensteiners, Swiss Argue

VADUZ, Liechtenstein (AP) — Feeling is running high in little Liechtenstein because of "border incidents" with neighboring Switzerland.

The Liechtenstein Volksblatt, chief newspaper in the tiny principality of 21,000 inhabitants, charged today that Swiss traffic police have repeatedly violated the country's sovereignty by chasing motorists over the frontier.

The paper published a photograph showing a policeman from the neighboring Swiss canton of St. Gall booking a driver on Liechtenstein soil.

Liechtenstein has a customs union with Switzerland and uses the Swiss franc as currency but otherwise is a sovereign state.

Dear Abby:

Hubby's Morning Routine Worrisome

DEAR ABBY: My husband, Mike, and I are both in our early forties. We have four children. Mike is busy with his business and I am busy with my house and the kids.

Lately Mike has been getting up at 5 a.m. He doesn't have to be at work until 8 and he has only a 20-minute drive to get there. Well, he rushes around getting showered, shaved and dressed and he runs out of the house like he is going to be late for something. When I ask him where he is going so early he says, "Nowhere — I just like to ride around." I am getting suspicious and would like to know where this guy goes. Should I follow him?

BERTIE

DEAR BERTIE: No, but ask him what he would think if you did the same thing for the same reason.

DEAR ABBY: I work in a large office and have a very responsible position. My husband keeps on calling me at work and if I'm not at my desk when he calls, I go thru the third degree. "Where was I? Who was I talking to? Don't I ever do any work around there?" Then BANG goes the receiver. Abby, that leaves me a nervous wreck all day.

It so happens that I must do a lot of work in the files which are about 50 feet away from my desk, so someone has to call me to the telephone.

When I get home I am faced with more questions and insults. He accuses me of having "boyfriends" at work. Abby, I have received awards for being an outstanding secretary. Besides, I am 47 and settled down.

I can't have any friends or go to the store without him. My only pleasure is work, and now that's no pleasure anymore. I do all my own housework, laundry, and the meals are always on the table when he gets home. No waiting. What else does he expect from a wife? Please tell me what to do.

TIED OF IT ALL

DEAR TIED: A man who is accusing and suspicious without just cause is sick. And a wife who puts up with it without attempting to get to the bottom of it is as sick as her husband.

DEAR ABBY: Every time I see a teen-age girl who can scarcely keep her hands and eyes off the boy she thinks she "loves," I feel compelled to write to you about my daughter. Hers is an old story of young passion and the price she paid for it.

She became pregnant at 16. After the first shock, we accepted it, as all parents must when they are faced with this nightmare. You hear from the girls who describe what they go thru at such time, but have you ever heard from mothers who tell what THEY go thru?

The lies when taking their daughter out of school. The long miserable hours she must spend indoors for fear a neighbor will see her condition. Then the final break, when a mother must leave her half-child half-woman in a home for unwed mothers to endure alone what should be a woman's most

Ohio Demos Delay Caucus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's 126-member delegation to the Democratic national convention will not caucus until after reaching Chicago, the convention site, State Chairman Eugene O'Grady announced Tuesday.

The announcement contrasted with an earlier statement by Sen. Stephen M. Young, Ohio's favorite son candidate, who indicated there would be a caucus before delegates left for the convention, Aug. 25-26.

O'Grady said he had conferred with Young and other high-ranking state Democratic officials in deciding on the caucus plans.

O'Grady also announced that John J. Gilligan, Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate, will represent Ohio on the important Resolutions and Platform Committee at the convention.

Tailored Flare in Skirts Marks Pierre Balmain Show

BY LUCIE NOEL
AP Fashion Writer

PARIS AP — Pierre Balmain showed a tailored flare in skirts today and eliminated the blouse in tailored suits as he unveiled an elegant fall and winter collection.

The flared skirts appeared in afternoon and cocktail numbers to present a new silhouette.

Cut on the bias, the fullness juts out at each side in a sharply pressed pleat. It is as good in his chevron-woven mattress ticking multicolored tweeds, as in the new faill and silk weaves in every color.

The tailored suit is usually a

This season he has new crepes and satins. They are used in color contrast to advantage.

Balmain's daytime look is slender studied and high-style. He likes the full-length coat over a wool jersey dress. Coats are fitted, while dresses sometimes skim the figure. A coat in vanilla yellow velours is worn over a white jersey dress with a barreled collar.

Balmain's technique is impervious to passing fads. He has mastered every detail, uses only the best in fabrics, in furs, in luxurious gold or silver or jeweled embroidery. This time there's a Spanish feeling about his jeweled dresses and some of his deluxe brocades recall cordoba embossed leather.

Fabrics are rich and handsome. Balmain is never at a

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Akron city officials relaxed enforcement of a curfew in the predominantly Negro Wooster Avenue area Tuesday night, and disturbances were fewer than on any night since violence erupted a week ago.

Mayor John S. Ballard said the trouble was beginning to taper off. There were few arrests, no fires and no injuries reported Tuesday night.

The mayor had set a curfew to start at 10 p. m., an hour later than Monday, but no attempt was made to enforce it on Wooster Avenue. National Guard troops were withdrawn and police forces were reduced sharply. Negro leaders were encouraged to move among the residents.

Earlier Tuesday, Ballard announced withdrawal of 150 members of a company of the 145th Infantry based at Wooster. Some 700 guardsmen remained available.

Spokesmen for the Poor People's Campaign and the United Black Front issued statements Tuesday attacking the curfew as discriminatory, alleging it was enforced strictly only in black neighborhoods.

Young Suggests Embassy in Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, saying the U.S. erred in severing diplomatic relations with Cuba, suggested in a Senate speech Tuesday that this country establish an embassy there.

Young said President Oswald Dorticos of Cuba has been seeking for years to have diplomatic relations restored. He said the Cuban government has indicated a willingness to negotiate to compensate U.S. citizens and firms for property seized by the Castro regime.

Locomotive Off, Running Again

HUTCHINSON, Kan. (AP) — Last month a Santa Fe locomotive got away from the railroad yards here and sped some 80 miles driverless across Kansas before it was derailed.

Tuesday, another diesel kept going when it should have stopped and crashed part way through the wall of the railroad shops.

The locomotive was sitting outside the shops when a machinist attempted to drive it inside. He said he applied the brakes "but she just kept on going" through a brick and reinforced glass wall.

Damage to the building was extensive, the railroad reported.

Derrick Scow Sinks

LORAIN, Ohio (AP) — Capital Dredge & Dock Corp.'s derrick scow Orion sank in Lake Erie Tuesday about 300 yards from the Lorain Harbor lighthouse. The 120-foot vessel was being towed from Toledo to Cleveland by a tug.

Entertainers in Hawaii

By BOB THOMAS
AP Television-Movie Writer

HONOLULU (AP) — With the tourist invasion continuing to grow as the jets touch on these shores, entertainment is booming. Probably nowhere else in the United States—except Las Vegas, as, where the gambling creates artificial salaries — could a performer get a half - million dollars per year contract. That is the reported salary for Hawaii's biggest draw, Don Ho, who plays to packed houses at Duke Kahanamoku's thrice nightly

Of course, Ho is the only performer who draws that kind of money—hula dancers earn as little as $5 a night at outer island hotels. But as the demand for entertainment rises, so do salaries.

The American Guild of Variety Artists, which represents night club entertainers, has taken note of the situation. The union has threatened a strike unless hotel owners come forward with hefty raises for its members. Some demands are double current salaries, according to hotel sources.

An AGVA negotiator declined to discuss specifics.

AGVA's ability to organize a strike is complicated by the moonlighting tradition among Hawaiian entertainers.

"Nearly every singer, dancer and musician in the shows has a day job, too," explained a performer, who also works for an electronics firm. "It would be hard to achieve any solidarity to call a strike."

But the AGVA officials remain militant, seeking minimum wages that would make moonlighting less necessary.

One thing is certain: Gone are the days when hotel entertainment was provided by members of the staff—bus boys, chambermaids, beach boys, etc. The growing waves of tourists—1,200,000 expected this year, 1,350,000 in 1969—are seeking more sophisticated entertainment.

Producing the Royal Hawaiian show was Jack Clone, a veteran of 10 years of Honolulu nightclubs.

"I've owned nine of them, and all have been successful," he remarked. "Now I have sold or transferred management of all of them. You used to be able to draw the tourist trade with strippers, but the topless girls ran them out of business. I've tried the topless policy, and that did well until the customers got accustomed to looking at bare bosoms."

"Now some of the clubs are getting by on a rock policy, with music so loud that you can't carry on a conversation. That will pass, too. I think the only future for night club entertainment in Hawaii is with the hotels. They control the guided tours, and can get customers by the busload."

Union OKs Demo Confab Equipment

CHICAGO (AP) — The chief spokesman of the striking International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers said Tuesday that the union will allow certain members to install all the necessary communications equipment required to hold the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

Robert A. Nickey emerged from a meeting with top Chicago labor leaders and Mayor Richard A. Daley to announce the breakthrough in the deadlock between the union and Illinois Bell Telephone Co. which threatened to change the convention from Chicago.

Nickey said that the members "will volunteer their services for themselves to install all the necessary communications facilities needed in the International Amphitheatre."

EDITOR'S NOTE — Actor Eddie Albert's public personality at the moment is that of the innocent city slicker being victimized by the country slickers in the CBS comedy series, "Green Acres." Everyone knows, however that it is merely acting, for in recent months he appeared with an inspirational reading on a variety show as the narrator of a special "How Life Begins," describing sex for young viewers. Here Albert reveals his serious, off-camera self.

Draft Laws Explained

EDITOR'S NOTE — In an effort to create a greater public understanding of the laws and regulations governing the induction of personnel into the Armed Forces, the Selective Service System has prepared a series of pertinent questions and corresponding responses concerning provisions of the draft law.

Q: I will soon be 18. I have a physical defect which I think will disqualify me for service. Is there any way I can find out if this disability will disqualify me without having to take a pre-induction examination?

A: Perhaps. When you complete your Selective Service Questionnaire (SSS Form 100), you may attach a medical statement from a licensed physician which substantiates your claim. Should your Local Board accept the doctor's statement, they may classify you in either Class I-Y or 4-F. If the Local Board is unable to concur in the medical diagnosis, they may order you to the Armed Forces Examining and Entrance Station for a pre-induction physical examination or to the Medical Advisor of the Local Board for further recommendation to them concerning your condition.

Q: My cousin speaks and understands very little English. He is to register with Selective Service very soon. Will someone be able to help him?

A: Yes. Whenever it becomes necessary, the Local Board Chairman may appoint an interpreter to assist in the registration.

Q: I am a registrant of a Local Board in Indiana. At the present I am working in England. Yesterday I received a new classification and wish to appeal. How much time do I have to appeal?

A: Sixty days. Your attention is called to the reverse side of the Notice of Classification (SSS Form 110) which was mailed to you by your local board. It reads in part, "Appeal from classification by local board may be taken by filing written notice of appeal with your local board within one of the following periods after the date of mailing of this notice: (1) 30 days of the registrant is located in the United States, its territories, possessions, Canada, Cuba, or Mexico; (2) 60 days if the registrant is located in a foreign country other than Canada, Cuba, or Mexico."

Moonshine Still Found on Hill

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "It was like a jungle up there," said Police Capt. Kenneth Ujevich after raiding a hillside moonshine operation. "I don't know how the moonshiner got the stuff up there."

The captain said the hill in nearby Clairton rose from street level at nearly a 90 degree angle. The raiders got to the still Tuesday by grabbing clumps of vegetation and pulling them selves up.

"The area is so inaccessible it would have been cheaper to buy a bottle every day," Ujevich said.

the entertainment world, and the main reason is that there's so little time. The bigger you are, the more of your time it takes up, and the less time you have to investigate the world around you and its wonders.

In my youth I deliberately set out to become a vagabond and a drifter as part of my growth, but after I'd had my fill I realized that there are more subtle ways of exploring.

Once Burl Ives and I got the urge to see what it was like to be alone in a Mexican desert with a gun, a guitar and two cans of tomato juice. We got lost and came back across the border on Dec. 7, 1941.

My urge for adventure was taken care of for the next two years in the Pacific, where I saw action on Tarawa and came out of the war with spiritual shell shock.

For the past 12 years my major hobby has been horticulture. I practice two techniques, liquid culture and organic gardening. I grow normal and abnormal plants, giving the latter the chemical treatment, and I take special pride in the size and beauty of the flowers.

I get some of the seeds from the research people at Oak Ridge who study the effects of radiation on various substances. The mutations are unpredictable — I never know if I'm going to rear a monster or a marvel.

I read about a trip down the Danube in a canoe, so I flew to Europe and paddled my own canoe over the same route in 1965. I once read a book which sent me on an introspective journey to a tiny island off Nova Scotia to meditate. Unfortunately, I became ill and had to be brought out by oxcart.

I made a film called "Human Growth" which caused some controversy in 1947 because it taught 12-year-olds about sex. It is now something of a classroom classic, I understand, and to my great joy it won a prize at the Venice Film Festival in 1965.

I want to make a film short in which a Catholic boy explains Judaism to a Protestant boy, a Protestant boy explains Catholicism to a Jewish boy and a Jewish boy explains Protestantism to a Catholic boy.

I'd like to be 20 years old again and look like Gregory Peck.

I'd like to have 24 hours a day just to plan and enjoy things a little more.

I'd like to take that canoe trip down the Danube again, this time with my son, and stop at Budapest and sing with the Gypsies in Romania.

I want to live to be 100. There's so little time.

Cynthia Lowry is on vacation.

Lightning Hits

Army Dump; Fire Spreads

PAVIA, Italy (AP) — A bolt of lightning struck an Italian army gasoline dump today, sending flaming gasoline down into the North Italian village of Ravanazzano. Gas pipes exploded, 25 houses were damaged and one collapsed, but only four of the 3,000 villagers were reported injured.

The gasoline dump was on a hill nearly two miles from the village, which is 22 miles from Pavia. The burning gasoline flowed down the hill, through a river and into a canal that crossed the village.

As gas pipes exploded and fires broke out in the village, the panic-stricken inhabitants escaped to the nearby fields.

Firemen from Pavia, Voghera and Milan rushed to the scene. It took them three hours to put out the fire.

Telegraph, telephone, water, electric power and gas lines were damaged. Twenty houses were damaged by explosions, one collapsed and five others were partly burned, according to an initial survey.

Algeria Still Holds Israeli Plane

PARIS (AP) — The Algerian government still held a hijacked Israeli jetliner and 21 or 22 Israeli citizens today after releasing 23 non-Israeli passengers.

The El Al Boeing 707 was diverted to Algiers on a flight from Rome to Israel early Tuesday by three members of the Front for the Liberation of Palestine, an Arab sabotage organization. The front asked the Algerian government to hold the Israelis aboard the plane as hostages for Arab commandos held prisoner in Israel, but there was no public response from Algiers and no demand for a swap.

Labor Unions Form Alliance

CHICAGO (AP) — The nation's two largest labor unions have announced formation of an alliance to tackle tough social problems and free the labor movement from "old attitudes and habits."

Officials of the United Auto Workers and the Teamsters stressed Tuesday that formation of the Alliance for Labor Action does not constitute a merger of the two organizations.

The announcement was made jointly at a news conference by Walter P. Reuther, president of the 1.6-million-member UAW, and Frank Fitzsimmons, general vice president of the 1.8 million Teamsters whose president, James R. Hoffa, is serving a federal prison term.

and the Italian government to intercede with the Algerians for release of the $6 million jetliner and the Israeli citizens. Italy sent an emissary to Algiers. Algeria is still technically at war with Israel following the Arab-Israeli war in June 1967, and Israel has never had diplomatic relations with any of the Arab governments.

Although the several Arab guerrilla organizations have sent commando squads into Israel repeatedly on terrorist and sabotage missions, this was the first Israeli plane ever hijacked.

One of the passengers who was released, Leon Papu, a Colombian, said the plane's copilot staggered into the passenger compartment 20 minutes after the takeoff from Rome.

"He was bleeding profusely from a head wound and his shirt was covered in blood," said Papu. "We heard he had been hit over the head by a revolver. He told us the plane had been hijacked."

Chino Raccach, a 29-year-old Libyan, said one of the hijackers drew his finger through the blood of the injured man.

"He licked it," Raccach reported, "and said in Hebrew: 'Jewish blood is very sweet.' He added 'We shall throw all the Jews into the sea,' and then quickly said 'we want peace.'"

East St. Louis Gets Big Loan

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — It was close, but the City Council scraped up enough money to meet the next payroll.

Two weeks ago the council had to authorize notes because of a $61,000 shortage. Local banks agreed to loan the city $100,000 to help meet payrolls for the next six months.

City officials think they can make the next payrolls from the general fund and other accounts.

Last week the Mobil Oil Co. threatened to withdraw credit because the city's bill of $16,000 was five months in arrears. The city paid $2,000 on the bill and credit was extended until Aug. 1. The city has been operating in the red since 1951.

Stocks and Bonds Reported Stolen

BOSTON (AP) — About $1 million in stocks and bonds is missing in several mailbags which disappeared June 4 from a First National Bank truck, the bank disclosed Tuesday.

A bank spokesman said some of the securities were negotiable, but that since all have identification numbers it would be difficult, if not impossible for a thief to cash them.

Ex-FBI Man Dies

CLEVELAND (AP) — Michael H. Farrin, 54, an FBI agent from 1939 to 1966 and an assistant Cuyahoga County prosecutor since then, died of an apparent heart attack Tuesday while on his way to lunch.

The front asked the Algerian government to hold the Israelis aboard the plane as hostages for Arab commandos held prisoner in Israel, but there was no public response from Algiers and no demand for a swap.

Twenty of the released passengers were flown to Paris. They included two Americans, Rina Uziel, 23, of Brooklyn, N.Y., and Gabriel Gaiz, 17, a student from Long Beach, Calif., who finally arrived in Tel Aviv today with four other passengers.

Three Jewish passengers who were not Israeli citizens were flown to Marseille.

Reports of the number of Israelis held in Algiers differed. El Al, the Israeli national airline, said 10 crew members and 12 passengers were detained. The Algerians said they were holding 11 passengers along with the 10 crew members.

The three hijackers also apparently were in Algiers.

The Israeli government asked U.N. Secretary General U Thant

Jack Crist Smashes Way With Braves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Richmond second baseman Van Kelly, who's been away for a two-week tour of active duty with the National Guard, may find a "Dear Van" letter awaiting him when he returns to the Braves' camp this week.

When Kelly left, the Braves, occupants of the International League basement, called up a second-sacker named Jack Crist who was hitting an anemic .190 for West Palm Beach in the Class A Florida State League.

Crist's stay was expected to be short and sweet, but he has 15 hits for a .333 average.

Indicating he's not too eager to give up his job Crist hit his second homer Tuesday night as the Braves beat Jacksonville, 6-3.

In other games, front-running Toledo broke a three-game losing spin by defeating Buffalo, 8-6; Louisville nosed out Columbus, 1-0, and Syracuse and Rochester split a pair, Syracuse winning 3-1, then losing 12-4.

Pollin Becomes Sole Owner Of Bullets

Pollin, a 44-year-old builder from Bethesda, Md., said Heft and Foreman "made a handsome profit in excess of what they paid originally, and what franchises are going for."

Add Detroit's Mayo Smith to the list of push-button managers. First he pushed the panic button by starting Denny McLain with only two days' rest. But just when the Tigers were in danger of losing again he hit the right one and out popped two pinch hitters who turned the game around.

When the wheels had stopped turning Detroit had a 6-4 victory over Washington Tuesday night and a six-game lead in the American League as Baltimore stopped Cleveland 8-6 and jumped back over the Indians into second place.

Elsewhere, the New York Yankees downed Boston 4-1 and California and Minnesota split a doubleheader by 3-1 scores, the Angels taking the opener and the Twins the nightcap. The Chicago White Sox led Oakland 3-0 after 2½ innings before they were rained out.

Detroit trailed Washington 4-3 on the strength of Frank Howard's 28th homer in the second inning and a three-run outburst in the sixth. But Phil Ortega walked Al Kaline to open the eighth, Willie Horton sacrificed him to second and Bill Freehan also walked.

Pinch hitter Jim Price singled

2 Swimmers Place in Jr. Olympics

In yesterday's second day of the Central Ohio Junior Olympics, two members of the Circleville Swim Team earned places in the breaststroke events.

Debbie Shea placed 5th in the 100-yard breaststroke for girls 15, 16 and 17, and Steve Penn placed 6th in the 50-yard breaststroke for boys age 10 and under. On Monday, Penn had placed 4th in the 50 yard Backstroke for boys 10 and under.

Both Miss Shea and Penn, by placing in the Junior Olympics, have extended their invitational meet record of placing among the top winners in every meet they have entered this year.

To date in Invitational meets, Penn has two fourths, one fifth, and a sixth place. Miss Shea has one first, two thirds, and a fifth.

Pollin Becomes Sole Owner Of Bullets

BALTIMORE (AP) — Abe Pollin, who bought out his partners rather than quit an unsuccessful venture with a profit, is the sole owner of the Baltimore Bullets.

The National Basketball Association team called a news conference Tuesday to report Pollin had bought out Arnie Heft and Earl Foreman, confirming an Associated Press report of July 15.

Pollin, a 44-year-old builder from Bethesda, Md., said Heft and Foreman "made a handsome profit in excess of what they paid originally, and what franchises are going for."

No figures were divulged, but it was estimated Pollin had to pay upwards of $1.5 million for the two-thirds share of his partners. It was estimated they paid $1.5 million for the franchise in November, 1964.

Cox Enters Golf Tournament

Garner Cox, 170 Walnut Creek Pike, will represent Upper Lansdowne Golf Course in the first annual Champion of Champions Tournament at Valley View Golf Club, Crestline.

A total of 30 past club champions from golf courses and Country Clubs in Ohio will compete in the event.

Also scheduled in the event is Elwood Cox, 1967 Valley View champion and a brother of Garner Cox.

Middletown Girls Win at Tennis

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Ohio girls Connie Capozzi and Jane Lawson, both from Middletown, won Tuesday in the second round of the Western Girls Tennis Championships.

Miss Capozzi downed Martha Thornhill of Huntington, W. Va., 6-1, 6-2, and Miss Lawson beat Pam Farmer of San Diego, Calif., 6-2, 3-6, 7-5. Miss Capozzi is seeded third in the 18-year-old division, Miss Lawson seventh.

The Yankees utilized a bases-loaded walk to beat Boston. Juan Pizarro walked Frank Fernandez with two out in the seventh inning to force home the tie-breaking run.

Tom Tresh homered in the fifth for their first run and they added two in the eighth. Stan Bahnsen went the route for the Yanks.

George Brunet scattered six hits and won his fifth straight game as California won the opener from Minnesota. The only damage was Ted Uhlaender's seventh homer, which ended Brunet's string of scoreless innings at 24.

But the Twins scratched out three unearned runs and won the nightcap behind Jim Merritt's clutch pitching.

McCovey, Giants Edge Cubs, 4-3

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Willie McCovey stepped off the plane in San Francisco early Tuesday evening, but as far as the Chicago Cubs are concerned his feet still haven't touched the ground.
McCovey flew to Los Angeles for an examination of his gimpy right knee, then winged back home in time to stroke four hits, including a two-out 10th inning homer that gave the Giants and Juan Marichal a 4-3 triumph over the Cubs.
Marichal checked the Cubs on five singles before nailing his 18th victory in 22 decisions when McCovey unloaded home run No. 24.
Elsewhere in the National League, the streaking Cincinnati Reds shrugged off a two-run ninth inning homer by Pittsburgh player-coach Bill Virdon and nipped the Pirates 7-6 in the 12th; first-place St. Louis walked Philadelphia 11-5, the New York Mets edged Atlanta 2-1 and Los Angeles topped Houston 3-1.

McCovey made his trip to Los Angeles to consult with Dr. Robert Kerlan regarding the knee injury that had been bothering him for more than two weeks.
Dr. Kerlan found a touch of arthritis in the knee, but the Cubs soon discovered there's nothing wrong with the towering first baseman's wrist action.
McCovey drove in one of the Giants' two first inning runs with the first of his three singles. His run-scoring single in the fifth gave Marichal a 3-1 lead, but the Cubs rallied for two runs in the seventh to knot it.
Lamabe got past Ron Hunt and Willie Mays in the 10th, but McCovey broke the deadlock with a blast into the left-center field seats.
Marichal applied an 0-for-5 collar to Glenn Beckert, snapping the Cub second baseman's season-high hitting streak at 27 games.
The Reds bunched the last four of their 20 hits in the 12th inning to break a 5-5 tie at Pittsburgh after 37-year-old Virdon, reactivated last week after a three-year absence from the majors, sent the game into overtime with his ninth-inning homer off relief ace Ted Abernathy.

Tony Perez's fifth hit, a run-scoring single, gave the Reds a 6-5 lead and Tommy Helms followed with another RBI single, offsetting a Pittsburgh run in the bottom of the 12th and insuring Cincinnati's fifth straight victory.
Home runs by Ed Kranepool and Ron Swoboda and tight relief pitching by Cal Koonce carried the Mets past the Braves, who have dropped five in a row.
Kranepool hit his second homer of the year in the second inning and Swoboda crashed his first since June 10th in the sixth before Koonce rescued winner Tom Seaver in the eighth.
Two doubles by Roger Maris drove in four of St. Louis' 10 runs in the first three innings as the Cardinals stretched Philadelphia's losing string to five with a 14-hit barrage.

Lou Brock and Mike Shannon delivered two runs apiece for the Cardinals, who lead the second place Braves by 1 1/2 games.
Bob Bailey's leadoff homer in the sixth—the first hit off Mike Culler—and run-scoring singles by Ted Savage and pitcher Claude Osteen brought the Dodgers from behind against Houston.
Osteen scattered seven hits in bringing his season mark to 8-14.

Roosevelt Grier Finished With Football, He Says

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Roosevelt Grier, a 287-pound veteran, is finished with pro football. Definitely. Sam McDowell, a 350-pound—maybe more—rookie, is ready to start his career. Maybe.
A Los Angeles Rams' spokesman said Tuesday the 36-year-old Grier, a defensive tackle for 11 National Football League seasons, has retired to devote his time to show business and working for "harmony and peace among races."
Grier sat out last year with a ruptured Achilles tendon.
McDowell reported Tuesday, stepped on the scales and the needle bounced to the maximum 350 pounds. His total weight could be only estimated.

He was head out of the American Football League's first full-scale workout, and Joe Thomas, director of player personnel, said a decision on McDowell's status would be made shortly.
In a National Football League trade Tuesday, the Dallas Cowboys acquired kicker Mike Clark from the Pittsburgh Steelers for an undisclosed draft choice. Clark is expected to fill a vacancy created when Danny Villanueva retired last week.
Defensive safety Jerry Richardson quit the Atlanta Falcons and defensive tackle Dennis Randall left the New York Jets' camp.
Officials of the NFL Falcons said Richardson quit when his demand for a three-game guarantee for the 1968 season was refused. Richardson needed to be activated for at least three more games to be eligible for a five-year NFL pension.
A spokesman for the AFL Jets said he didn't expect Randall to return. Club officials said he was unhappy and had several business opportunities.

Tackle John Johnson, a five-year NFL veteran, and rookie halfback Gary Lyle still had not reported to the Chicago Bears' camp, and Coach Jim Dooley said each would be fined $250 for every day they are absent.
Dooley also announced that defensive back Roosevelt Taylor had signed.
And George Halas Jr. announced the Bears are willing to trade defensive back Richie Pettibone to New Orleans for the Saints' No. 1 draft pick. Pettibone recently announced he would retire if not traded to the Saints because he cannot leave New Orleans for business reasons.
Veterans John Wooten and Ross Fichtner, put on waivers by Cleveland recently after stories broke concerning an alleged racial slight, became free agents after no other NFL club claimed them. Wooten, a guard, is a Negro. Defensive back Fichtner is white.

Reds Beat Pittsburgh, 7-6, For Fifth Straight Win

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Even Bill Virdon's first home run in three years couldn't save the Pittsburgh Pirates from another loss, which dropped them into eighth place in the National League.
Virdon, a coach who was reactivated last week, slammed a two-run pinch-hit homer with one out in the ninth but Cincinnati went on to beat the Pirates 7-6 in 12 innings Tuesday night.
The smash into the rightfield stands came on Virdon's second at-bat of the season. He struck out the first time.
Cincinnati won the game with two runs on successive singles by Lee May, John Bench, Tony Perez and Tommy Helms off Roy Face with one out in the 12th. It was the Reds' fifth victory in a row.
The Pirates rallied back with one in their half of the 12th on a walk to Maury Wills, his steal of second, Marty Alou's punt single and Willie Stargell's sacrifice fly.
Perez had five hits, including his 11th homer, Bench four and Vada Pinson and Mack Jones three each as the Reds collected 20 hits against seven Pirate pitchers.

Gerry Arrigo, fourth of five Reds pitchers, was the winning hurler.
Jones' two-out single in the third triggered a three-run outburst and gave the Reds a 3-1 edge at the time. Pinson followed with a triple, May walked, Bench singled Pinson home and May scored on Jose Pagan's throwing error. The Pirates had scored an unearned run in the first.
Pittsburgh closed to 3-2 in the fourth when Don Clendenon walked and rode home on Jerry May's double.
But Jones followed with his fifth homer in the fifth and Perez connected in the sixth. Stargell smacked No. 18 in the seventh for Pittsburgh.

McCovey, Giants Edge Cubs, 4-3

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Willie McCovey stepped off the plane in San Francisco early Tuesday evening, but as far as the Chicago Cubs are concerned his feet still haven't touched the ground.

McCovey flew to Los Angeles for an examination of his gimpy right knee, then winged back home in time to stroke four hits, including a two-out 10th inning homer that gave the Giants and Juan Marichal a 4-3 triumph over the Cubs.

Marichal checked the Cubs on five singles before nailing his 18th victory in 22 decisions when McCovey unloaded home run No. 24.

Elsewhere in the National League, the streaking Cincinnati Reds shrugged off a two-run ninth inning homer by Pittsburgh player-coach Bill Virdon and nipped the Pirates 7-6 in the 12th; first-place St. Louis walloped Philadelphia 11-5, the New York Mets edged Atlanta 2-1 and Los Angeles topped Houston 3-1.

McCovey made his trip to Los Angeles to consult with Dr. Robert Kerlan regarding the knee injury that had been bothering for more than two weeks.

Dr. Kerlan found a touch of arthritis in the knee, but the Cubs soon discovered there's nothing wrong with the towering first baseman's wrist action. McCovey drove in one of the Giants' two first inning runs with the first of his three singles. His run-scoring single in the fifth gave Marichal a 3-1 lead, but the Cubs rallied for two runs in the seventh to knot it.

Lamabe got past Ron Hunt and Willie Mays in the 10th, but McCovey broke the deadlock with a blast into the left-center field seats.

Marichal applied an 0-for-5 collar to Glenn Beckert, snapping the Cub second baseman's season-high hitting streak at 27 games.

The Reds bunched the last four of their 20 hits in the 12th inning to break a 5-5 tie at Pittsburgh after 37-year-old Virdon, reactivated last week after a three-year absence from the majors, sent the game into overtime with his ninth-inning homer off relief ace Ted Abernathy.

Tony Perez' fifth hit, a run-scoring single, gave the Reds a 6-5 lead and Tommy Helms followed with another RBI single, offsetting a Pittsburgh run in the bottom of the 12th and insuring Cincinnati's fifth straight victory.

Home runs by Ed Kranepool and Ron Swoboda and tight relief pitching by Cal Koonce carried the Mets past the Braves, who have dropped five in a row.

Kranepool hit his second homer of the year in the second inning and Swoboda crashed his first since June 10th in the sixth before Koonce rescued winner Tom Seaver in the eighth.

Two doubles by Roger Maris drove in four of St. Louis' 10 runs in the first three innings as the Cardinals stretched Philadelphia's losing string to five with a 14-hit barrage.

Lou Brock and Mike Shannon delivered two runs apiece for the Cardinals, who lead the second place Braves by 12 1/2 games.

Bob Bailey's leadoff homer in the sixth—the first hit off Mike Culler—and run-scoring singles by Ted Savage and pitcher Claude Osteen brought the Dodgers from behind against Houston.

Osteen scattered seven hits in bringing his season mark to 8-14.

Architecture of Village's Homes Reveals Ancestry of Settlers

The outline of Tarlton village today is remarkably identical to the original settlement. According to one senior citizen, the age of the residences can be determined by their location on the land. The older homes are placed on the street.

A stroll through the streets of the village, the oldest in the county's history, reveals the ancestry of its original settlers by the architecture of the homes and buildings — the severe lines of the Lutheran Church, the compact New England salt box, the flourishing Victorian and those designed to be suitably functional. Each with a history all its own and inhabited by the friendliest of natives.

THE BALLARD HOME — One of the older and more pretentious homes in Tarlton is the Ballard home. Completed in 1875, the 17-room residence is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ballard, grandson of the builder. The first Ballard to enter this area was a doctor from Massachusetts who settled, married and practiced medicine in Tarlton.

THE SHOEMAKER FARM — Another of the older of the more prominent family properties of Tarlton is the commonly referred to "Shoemaker Farm." The name of Shoemaker is recorded in the earliest history of the village when a grant of land was issued to John Shoemaker of Pennsylvania in the same year as Tarlton was founded by Benjamin Newell who later sold the property of the town to Shoemaker.

SCHWINN RESIDENCE — This unique residence served as a home and store for merchant Schwinn, grandfather of the late Charles Schwinn. The single dwelling is under one roof but contains no passageway to connect the family store and living quarters. It is one of Tarlton's oldest homes, fronted by a brick walk undoubtedly as old as the dwelling.

LUTHERAN CHURCH — The Lutheran Church is the second to the oldest religious affiliation in the village. At one time there were two Lutheran (one English and one German) churches in the village. Decidedly severe lines of the structure provides architectural contrast to other buildings in the town.

West Virginia Residents Return as Chlorine Fades

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — A great gray cloud hung over this chemical-making center today as thousands cautiously returned to the homes they evacuated because of a deadly chlorine gas leak.

A series of small explosions

Tuesday, ripped through the big FMC plant, rupturing a tank filled with the chlorine gas and sending a cloud of gas fumes over a 12-block area in the city of 20,000. Unofficial estimates of the number of evacuees ranged from 500 to 5,000.

Police sealed off the city from Charleston, the state capital across the Kanawha River. Residents sought higher ground to escape the fumes which produced smarting eyes, coughing and vomiting. Dozens were treated at Thomas Memorial Hospital, with some requiring oxygen tents, but none was considered serious.

Fire swept through a complex of buildings at the chemical plant, located on U.S. 60, which cuts through the heart of the city that calls itself "the chemical center of the world." Union Carbide and other chemical producers have installations here and employ thousands.

Capt. J. D. Baisden of the state police detachment in South Charleston said after midnight that "everything is under control now but the fire is still going strong and may burn for 24 hours."

FMC officials said the source of the chlorine leak had been located and sealed but warned that people should not return to their homes until the all clear sounded.

Atmospheric conditions in the Kanawha River Valley added to the problem. There was little or no wind to disperse the cloud and FMC officials said that the gas hovers close to the ground.

Ashville Man Forfeits Bond

Charles D. Moody, 39, Ashville, forfeited a $29 bond when he failed to appear in Circleville Municipal Court Tuesday to answer a charge of speeding 80 miles an hour in a 60 mile zone.

have something to say about that myself," Humphrey told a New York news conference which was his first formal session with the press since he announced his candidacy.

McCarthy, in Baltimore to try to persuade Maryland delegates to at least remain uncommitted before the convention, criticized Humphrey for saying he was unclear on McCarthy's Vietnam position.

There were these other political developments Tuesday:

—Agreements were reached in both Chicago and Miami Beach, lifting the threat of communications blackouts during the political conventions.

In Chicago, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers said it would allow its members, working without pay, to install all necessary facilities in the International Amphitheatre for the Aug. 26 Democratic convention. The union has been on strike since early May in a contract dispute with Illinois Bell Telephone.

In Miami Beach, a spokesman for the Columbia Broadcasting System announced settlement of a dispute that had halted communications work in preparation for the Aug. 5 Republican convention.

The IBEW had thrown up picket lines to support a demand that a new piece of computer equipment be operated by a member. CBS said an IBEW member would operate the equipment under network supervision while the matter goes to arbitration.

—Louisiana Democrats selected the state's first racially integrated convention delegation and predicted all 50 members would support Humphrey.

—Wallace aides said in Massachusetts they are filing some 70,000 signatures more than needed to put the former Alabama governor on that state's presidential ballot. And in Oklahoma, the State Supreme Court issued an order granting Wallace and his third party candidates a place on that ballot.

LBJ Tells Governors Viet Policy Will Not Change

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — President Johnson has declared he will not waver from a Vietnam policy he called just and reasonable, despite "the pressures and strains that come normally in any political year."

The nation's governors who heard that pledge had no plans to attempt to match it with one of their own. The 60th National Governors' Conference held its final session today, and the agenda did not touch on Vietnam.

One Democrat who praised the Johnson stand said any attempt to put the conference on record in support of U.S. policy on the war and negotiations would stir dissension which could do more harm than good.

Johnson spent an hour Tuesday night at the conference which has been marked by the political maneuvering by and for candidates to succeed him when he retires from the White House next Jan. 20.

Before a black-tie crowd of more than 2,000 persons at the governors' ball, Johnson declared:

"Our nation wants peace, our government wants peace, our men in Vietnam want peace and your President wants peace. Yet some among us seem to feel that I or we alone can bring peace to Vietnam. They seem to ignore the presence and irreconcilability of the enemy."

Johnson said he had promised battleground restraint in announcing he would not run again for the White House, and has kept that promise.

"We are willing to go as far as honor and safety permit us to go," he said. "But we are not going to impose a coalition government—or any kind of government—on the people of South Vietnam."

"Nor are we going to let the totalitarians impose a Communist government of their direction either," the President said. That drew one of only two rounds of applause which came during his address.

"The days we're going through and the days ahead are going to continue to resist the Johnson said. "But we are determined to press the search for peace even as we resist aggression on the battlefield. We are going to continue to resist the efforts to split our country wide open and divide our citizens."

Architecture of Village's Homes Reveals Ancestry of Settlers

The outline of Tarlton village today is remarkably identical to the original settlement. According to one senior citizen, the age of the residences can be determined by their location on the land. The older homes are placed on the street.

A stroll through the streets of the village, the oldest in the county's history, reveals the ancestry of its original settlers by the architecture of the homes and buildings — the severe lines of the Lutheran Church, the compact New England salt box, the flourishing Victorian and those designed to be suitably functional. Each with a history all its own and inhabited by the friendliest of natives.

THE SHOEMAKER FARM — Another of the older of the more prominent family properties of Tarlton is the commonly referred to "Shoemaker Farm." The name of Shoemaker is recorded in the earliest history of the village when a grant of land was issued to John Shoemaker of Pennsylvania in the same year as Tarlton was founded by Benjamin Newell who later sold the property of the town to Shoemaker.

SCHWINN RESIDENCE — This unique residence served as a home and storeroom for merchant Schwinn, grandfather of the late Charles Schwinn. The single dwelling is under one roof but contains no passageway to connect the family store and living quarters. It is one of Tarlton's oldest homes, fronted by a brick walk undoubtedly as old as the dwelling.

THE BALLARD HOME — One of the older and more pretentious homes in Tarlton is the Ballard home. Completed in 1875, the 17-room residence is owner occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ballard, grandson of the builder. The first Ballard to enter this area was a doctor from Massachusetts who settled, married and practiced medicine in Tarlton.

LUTHERAN CHURCH — The Lutheran Church is the second to the oldest religious affiliation in the village. At one time there were two Lutheran (one English and one German) churches in the village. Decidedly severe lines of the structure provides architectural contrast to other buildings in the town.

West Virginia Residents Return as Chlorine Fades

SOUTH CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — A great gray cloud hung over this chemical-making center today as thousands cautiously returned to the homes they evacuated because of a deadly chlorine gas leak.

A series of small explosions

plant, located on U.S. 60, which cuts through the heart of the city that calls itself "the chemical center of the world." Union Carbide and other chemical producers have installations here and employ thousands.

Kanawha River Valley added to the problem. There was little or no wind to disperse the cloud and FMC officials said that the gas hovers close to the ground.

Police sealed off the city from Charleston, the state capital across the Kanawha River. Residents sought higher ground to escape the fumes which produced smarting eyes, coughing and vomiting. Dozens were treated at Thomas Memorial Hospital, with some requiring oxygen tents, but none was considered serious.

Fire swept through a complex of buildings at the chemical plant. Capt. J. D. Baisden of the state police detachment in South Charleston said after midnight that "everything is under control now but the fire is still going strong and may burn for 24 hours."
